GOP Gives Answer To Truman Talks

Declare Former President Has Left Mountain-Sized Pile of Half-Truths and Distortions

Washington — (AP) — The Republican national committee today accused former President Harry S. Truman of leaving behind him a mountain-sized pile of half-truths and distortions in three campaign speeches last week.

GOP Chairman Meade Adams at the same time challenged the No. 1 Democratic campaigner to explain to northern audiences "why southern Democrats are closing public schools rather than obeying the law."

Youth Admits Hammer Death At LaCrosse

Son of Alderman Says He Killed His Great Aunt

La Crosse — (AP) — Dist. Atty. George Thompson announced Sunday night that a high school sophomore has admitted the hammer killing of his great aunt.

Thompson said he had a signed statement from 16-year-old John Jackie Marasek, son of Ald. John Marasek.

The district attorney said juvenile court will decide the charges and prosecution.

Criminal Court

He said the youth is within the 16-18 year age range, which means juvenile court can transfer the case to criminal court or confine the matter to juvenile authorities.

Thompson said the boy related he struck Mrs. Joseph Grybcznski, 50, with a claw hammer in a flash of temper Friday night after they exchanged remarks "about small things, including his hands being dirty."

The boy, missing since the discovery of the dead woman, was taken into custody Sunday afternoon in a corn field near Ettrick, Wis., about 30 miles north of here.

The slaying occurred in the downtown apartment above a tavern which Mrs. Grybcznski and Marasek formerly operated.

Police Chief George Long said the body was discovered in the kitchen about 9 o'clock by the alderman and a neighbor, John Saley, 33. No trace could be found of the boy.

Around Noon

He was spotted around noon Sunday by a farmer who was exercising his hunting dogs about six miles east of Ettrick.

The boy stepped from a wooded area, but scurried into a corn field when the farmer hailed him.

The farmer notified authorities.

A search party was being organized when Det. Lt. Vern Weber of La Crosse noticed the boy under a group of hazel bushes at the edge of the field.

Officers said the boy looked haggard and unkempt.

Thompson said young Marasek told him that he had spent the weekend outdoors, eating apples, fruit and berries.

Study Chance for Spiritual Year

St. Louis — (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, president of the National Council of Churches, says world religious leaders are considering the possibility of an "international spiritual year."

There are many indications, he said, that both Christian and non-Christian religious leaders are considering something comparable to the international geophysical year in science.

Dr. Dahlberg, a St. Louis minister, said such an observance would include deliberations on the spiritual problems of all nations. It probably would involve "consultations with scientists and philosophers," he told an open forum meeting last night.

Raft Reaches Hawaii After 69-Day Voyage

Mormon Elder, Three Crewmen Down to Final Cans of Food as Long Trip Ends

Honolulu — (AP) — An adventurous Mormon elder and his three young crewmen — who drifted to Hawaii after 69 days of drifting 2,100 miles — were sighted by the U.S. Coast Guard today.

The raft, the Lehi IV, was towed into port at Honolulu by the tugboat Amberjack. All of the mariners were in good condition.

Skipper De Vere Baker, 42, boat-builder near San Francisco, will be reunited with his wife, Nola, and three children who are flying from the mainland.

The raft arrived off Maui Saturday afternoon after a 69-day voyage from Long Beach, 2,100 miles to the east.

When Baker and his bearded crew and their dog, Targora, were sighted they were down to their last four cans of spinach and tomatoes.

Towed to Port

The raft was towed into port at Honolulu by the tugboat Amberjack. All of the mariners were in good condition.

Asked what his trip proved, Baker told newsmen: "The coast guard put it very nicely when they congratulated us on proving Hawaiians thousands of years ago came from the Americas, the same way we did."

The voyage was a shake-down, preparatory to a raft expedition from the Persian gulf next year. Baker hopes to prove that the prehistoric settlers of Central America drifted on crude craft from the Middle East. The book of Mormon relates that the prophet Lehi used rafts to move the lost tribes of Israel from the Red Sea.

Other Crewmen

With Baker were Larry Fogline, 31, a UCLA psychologist; Don McFarland, 27, University of New Mexico student and Ed Kekuala, 27, Brigham Young university dental student.

The only hardship was suffered by the dog. He had an ear infection suffered from fleas and the salt water. Earlier attempts by Baker to drift to Hawaii had failed.

Reuss Offers New Plan for Moraine Park

Says Emphasis Should be Given to 11 Specific Areas

Milwaukee — (AP) — Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Milwaukee, has offered a modified plan for developing Moraine National park in Wisconsin.

Reuss suggested Saturday that primary emphasis be given to 11 specific areas in the 500-mile-long moraine strip which he said would "best tell the total story of the ice age in North America."

The Milwaukee congressman made the suggestion in a letter to Conrad L. Wirth, director of the national park service.

Tour Area

Three representatives of the NPS spent most of last week touring the 500 miles of glacial moraines that form a winding strip through Wisconsin.

Reuss had offered legislation to make the entire strip a national park.

He said Saturday the original proposal "may eventually come about." But he said the planning should start with the 11 areas which provide recreational facilities as well as display the action of the glaciers.

His proposed 11 areas are: The Areas Devil's Lake State park in Sauk county; Kettle Moraine

British Laborites Say Quemoy War Would Be 'Criminal Folly'

Conservative Newspaper Says Country Should Talk to Russians

London — (AP) — Britons looked anxiously at mounting tension in Formosa strait today and debated what action this country could take to promote peace.

Laborite opposition Leader Hugh Gaitskell told a weekend political meeting "it would be criminal folly to risk a third World war" for the sake of defending Quemoy against the Chinese communists.

Give Them Back

Gaitskell, who would be Britain's prime minister if labor won the next election, added his party "cannot see how there can be any outcome of the present crisis except through the cession of the offshore islands to communist China — to which they belong."

The Conservative Daily Telegraph took issue with the laborite chief.

"Wiser voices have seen Britain's role as that of a behind the scenes counsellor of caution, not clumsily tugging at Dulles' coat-tails but skillfully tempting him back from the brink," it said.

The Telegraph suggested British pressure could most usefully be supplied "at the very fountainhead of the mischief — Soviet Russia."

"British action could and should provide the Russian leaders with authoritative insight into what the American administration's mood actually is, how far it is prepared to go, and where the western alliance as a whole will stand if pressed beyond the point of no return."

Official Urges Street Paving Work Program

Aldermen Cite Political, Sales Problems
Of Ordering of Projects Before Bids Taken

BY JIM NEWCOMB
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

There's no question city paving work should be programmed the fall before the construction season, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski says.

Aldermen on the street and sanitation committee agree, but cite political and sales problems.

Duszynski's contention is based on a belief that costs could be reduced if contractors bid on known quantities instead of so much a foot or yard before any work is ordered.

It also would permit his engineers, he says, to draft all detailed plans over the winter and avoid the last minute rush of a host of projects that keep them just ahead of contractors.

The aldermen point out an order for work before the spring election is liable to cost an alderman votes and loss of his job. Some say this could be alleviated somewhat by having the committee order the large projects involving primary streets.

The aldermen also point out that it is difficult to convince property owners to accept work.

It was pointed out that the recent bids for concrete work on N. Oneida street, N. Lawe street and a downtown alley were favorable despite coming late in the season.

Timing, Duszynski maintains, is important, but the advantage most often is early in the season. Then, too, he says, the contractors bid on known quantities.

Seek Reduced Costs
Patrick Flanagan, Badger Highways representative, a year ago told the committee the city would get better asphalt prices if bids were taken on a season's known program or in a series of streets as is the case with concrete work.

Committee Chairman Roy Pointer believes the policy of encouraging concrete and 14-inch asphalt mats for streets will pay off in reduced street maintenance costs borne without assessment charges. He urged the committee not to upset the policy.

Pointer during the discussion said he would order streets in the Kesting-Kirk-Laurel subdivision graded and gravelled in preparation for concrete right now if the city could get another sanitary sewer trunk and local sewers programmed for the area.

Ordering of grading and gravel, with specific instructions to prepare for concrete, was done this season on S. Telulah avenue by Ald. Thomas K. Schneider.

W. Atlantic
The move cuts down the ultimate cost of a concrete street. The gravel is prepared to serve as base for the concrete and doesn't have to be removed and the roadway dug out as otherwise.

It also was suggested that W. Atlantic street should be reconstructed with concrete next season when some committeemen insisted they will demand removal of all of the old surface before reconstruction begins.

Concrete should be used, it was said, because the street is the only major east-west traffic carrier between College and Wisconsin avenues.

Estimates Asked

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said he doubts that the street will remain a primary one since it is not being used.

The discussion grew from Ald. Allan Sonkowsky's request for concrete streets around the Huntley school, now under construction in the northeast corner of the city.

Sonkowsky's request was referred to the engineering department for an estimate of total and city costs. The estimates will be used in the committee's consideration of a paving budget for next year.

by resorting to the unscrupulous act of refusing to accept the message."

Say Rules Violated
The American rejection was disclosed in Washington Saturday.

(Moscow radio quoted Monday's edition of Pravda as saying rejection of the Khrushchev note was "a violation of the generally accepted rules" of diplomatic relations. "The organizers of military provocation could not help seeing the tremendous influence this document (the Khrushchev letter) had on the minds of men," Pravda added.

(Pravda said ruling American circles were "particularly annoyed" because Khrushchev had declared the United States would have to get out of Formosa and the offshore islands or be driven out by the red Chinese.

("Whether they like it or not, however, the aggressors really will have to get out of the Taiwan strait area of their own free will or else they will be made to get out," the paper declared.)

Pravda carried a leading article on the Khrushchev note Sunday morning without saying it had been turned down.

The Soviet communist party newspaper said the note was "a new impressive demonstration of the iron unity and solidarity of the socialist (communist) states in the face of the aggressive actions of the imperialists."

Firm Continues Check For Missing Gold

Garfield, Utah—Kenecott Copper corporation officials continued their inventory check today to determine how much gold, if any, was missing from their refinery here.

Asst. General Manager Ira K. Hearn said there definitely was some gold missing, but "we cannot estimate the value of the missing metal until our inventory is complete."

But Secret Service Agent Robert F. Grube of Salt Lake City said no definite shortage had been established yet. He did not elaborate.

However Hearn termed a radio station estimate of $3 million as "ridiculous."

Ike Walks With Adams
Eisenhower walked with Adams to the helicopter when the White House aide left the summer White House at 11:10 a.m. for the return trip to Washington.

This was an obvious—and perhaps farewell—gesture of regard for Adams.

The two men were silent for the first few steps down the sidewalk toward the big marine copter.

Then they began conversing as they walked, and Eisenhower gave the departing Adams a friendly pat on the arm just before Adams climbed aboard.

Some Republican candidates and party leaders have been demanding that Eisenhower get rid of Adams because of his relations with Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Adams arrived unannounced from Washington by plane and helicopter.

Hagerty Not Informed
Indications were he spent about an hour with the president. He may have seen Eisenhower again later.

Earlier on his arrival, Adams replied tersely "I have no statement to make" when a reporter asked:

"Governor, are you going to resign?"

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty only shook his head and told inquiring newsmen: "I don't know."

There have been reports for days that Adams was about to yield to the clamor of many Republican candidates and party leaders for his scalp.

Adams has denied he ever exerted any influence in behalf of Goldfine. He said he made only routine inquiries.

Adams flew from Washington this morning to Quonset Point, R. I., across Narragansett bay from the president's vacation headquarters.

Then he switched to a waiting copter for the short hop across the bay.

Awatied by Hagerty
Hagerty was waiting for him on the lawn in front of the U. S. Naval base administration building as the whirlbird put down near the water's edge.

Also on hand were a half dozen or so newsmen who thought the copter was bringing from the capital only Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary.

Adams walked the 75 yards from the copter to the administration building with Hagerty as reporters tried to halt the presidential assistant for questions.

The white-haired aide, in a blue suit and carrying a brief case, never broke his stride. A moment later he and Hagerty disappeared into the building.

Presumably Eisenhower and Adams met at once.

Boss of U. S. Marshals Tries To Fill Big Historical Gaps

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington — U. S. marshals don't know whether Matt Dillon, Wyatt Earp and Wild Bill Hickok were ever U. S. marshals — despite all the legends and television programs about them. They may have been town marshals.

In fact, what U. S. marshals don't know about U. S. marshals would fill a bunch of big books.

These officers are in the news now because marshals gaps, Matchett says. That's why he's asked marshals into Little Rock where, if things get rough, they may judge's order to integrate Central High.

But meanwhile E. J. Matchett, boss of the 804 marshals and deputies in the United States, and its territories, has asked them to let him know anything they can find about the history of U. S. marshals.

The reason: There's a terrible gap in their history between 1789 and 1870, and even afterward. What's happened to the records, if there were records? Matchett says, he doesn't know.

He has his office in the justice department — where the attorney general has supervision over marshals — and he says: "We've turned this place upside down" in search of some water in his ear which of records "and we can't find anything." He broke his halter and tore across a near-by golf course, treeing three away back in colonial and golfers before being recaptured even British history. Congress ed.

Judges Won't Comment on Age to Marry

Committee Studying Proposal to Change Legal Age to 16

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The juvenile and county court judges of the state have declined to discuss raising the legal marriage age for females in Wisconsin.

A family law revision committee of the legislative council, preparing a report for the 1959 legislature, has had proposals that the legal age, with parental consent, be raised from 15 to 16 years.

It submitted the propositions for comment to the state boards of county and juvenile judges.

The judges replied "it would be inappropriate to take a position thereon," the study committee has been advised.

Other Changes
The advisory committee also has had suggestions that the law be changed to provide for the consent of county judges, instead of parental consent, as a requirement for marriage of female minors.

But the judges replied that "it would be most improper to relieve the parents of their natural and legal duty to supervise and care for the general well-being and morals of their children in this regard." The interim study committee, led by Sen. Walter Merten, a Milwaukee lawyer, has not decided whether to recommend the marriage age change to the legislature.

Treasury Faces Cash Shortage

Washington — The treasury faces a decision this week on how much money it should borrow to replenish its depleted cash drawer.

Officials reportedly are considering raising three or four billion dollars through sale of government securities. However, the total may be bigger.

An announcement is expected Thursday. Before then, Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and his advisers must determine how much is needed and what form the security issues should take.

Action is required because, according to latest figures, the government's cash balance is just below $3 billion.

This is not enough to pay federal bills for two weeks. Furthermore, the recession has caused a slowdown in revenue and spending has increased sharply.

Who Is Responsible for Civil Defense?

Civil Defense leaders lately have tended to emphasize the fact that community preparation for disaster is important not only because of the possibility of war, but for other emergencies such as tornadoes, floods, fires and the like. While this is true, we fear that the emphasis being placed on it betrays a suspicion on the part of officialdom that the American people just can't be persuaded to make any effort to prepare themselves for a possible enemy attack.

Certainly the history of Civil Defense indicates that this is the case. The apathy of the American public toward the very real possibility that some day bombs and missiles may rain down on our cities is one of the great imponderables of our times. Yet since the danger is very real — war could come at any time, and it would be insane to deny it — it is rather silly to spoon-feed this unpleasant truth to the people.

But even among those who recognize the danger, and are willing to face up to it, there remains the problem of what to do about it, and perhaps more important, who should be doing it. For two reasons there has been a tendency to wait for the federal government to take the lead in civil defense. One is that in recent decades we have more and more tended to look to Washington for leadership on any problem that is national in scope; individual or community or even state self-reliance is increasingly a rare phenomenon in our society. The other reason is that while civil defense is "civil" it is also "defense" and from our earliest days the federal government has had almost the sole responsibility for defending the country from foreign attack.

Yet there are many reasons why this aspect of national defense should be principally a local responsibility. The most important, we suppose, is that it involves our very lives, our homes, our businesses, and it doesn't make sense to ask a government hundreds or thousands of miles away to guarantee one's personal survival. Furthermore the federal government is so busy — and is spending so much money — providing the actual military defense of the country, to say nothing of all the other services we expect of it today, that asking it to take on the Civil Defense job would be demanding the impossible. Very probably we would have to double the number of federal employees, and double the federal budget as well, and that in itself would spell disaster for our way of life.

But can cities, villages, towns, counties and states really do anything to help us prepare ourselves? The answer is yes, yes, a thousand times yes. The mere fact of organization itself is perhaps the most important thing of all; people who have been caught in war situations; either as military personnel or civilians, will testify that there is nothing worse on this earth than not knowing what to do, where to go for help, how to react to the situation, how to organize one's self or one's family or comrades for survival. Those who fought in either of the world wars or in Korea can vividly remember that the soldier who was part of an organization prepared for just this kind of an emergency, with someone to tell him what to do and with duties clearly outlined, could keep himself going both physically and mentally under unbelievable hardships, but that the unorganized civilian, staring wide-eyed at the disaster around him, fearful, helpless, knowing not what to do, soon panicked and became a burden both to himself and others.

Thus even the most elementary organization on the local level is tremendously important. In our opinion it doesn't have to be anything tremendously expensive or cumbersome; in fact, the more simple it is the more effective it will be. The most important thing is that every citizen be given some sort of basic information, some guide posts to follow. We don't think it would be too difficult a job, in a community of this size, to see that every citizen is blood-typed and marked — perhaps with a tiny tattoo — so that he can be given plasma even if unconscious. Community leaders should be told now exactly what they should do in various kinds of emergencies; where they should report, what their responsibilities will be. Certain types of supplies could be stocked in underground storage vaults near but not in populated areas such as the Fox Cities. Emergency provisions can be made for such vital services as electricity, water, food and medical attention.

If war comes there will be, we think, terrible panic and confusion and terror and needless loss of life in those communities that are unprepared, and a considerably better situation in those that have taken even the first steps of civil defense preparation. This is too bad, perhaps, but there is a certain bitter justice in it. This is still a world in which people must do certain things for themselves, and with our vaunted education and affluency and sophistication we do not think it is asking too much to suggest that people do a little something towards their own survival.

Merit Scholarships Appraised

Advocates of a far more extensive national scholarship program, fortunately dumped from the federal education bill last month, should take a hard look at the present system of National Merit Scholarships, the number of students it assists to college, and its cost.

Last April almost half a million high school juniors took the first of a series of exams which weeds them out on a competitive basis. They represented 31 per cent of all students who make up this fall's senior classes.

About the first of October the top-scoring 10,000 will be notified that they are semi-finalists. These will be those who approximate 98 per cent on the exam although the figure is not exact since each state picks its top contestants on the basis of population. Another exam will be given in December and eventually about 800 scholarships will be awarded to those in the top brackets who establish considerable financial need.

Obviously there are many bugs in this system. One exam eliminates this year 468,000 applicants, almost all of them reasonable prospects, despite the obvious fact that a headache on exam day might make all the difference. The student's high school record is not considered in any way until the very last choices are made. Picking finalists on a state population basis also tends to penalize students in high population areas which have excellent school systems.

However, in general the exam method is probably the most fair. But the cost this year will be close to $5 million — for 800 students, about 16 one-hundredths of one per cent of those who took the first exam, or five-hundredths of one per cent of the senior high school students in the country. The money is not wastefully spent; part of its goes to the colleges of the winners' choice. But at a cost of about $6,000 per winner, just exactly how many scholarships do the bright-eyed dreamers think can be awarded? It also must be remembered that now a large part of the money comes from private foundations rather than from the government sources.

One of the problems of scholarships has been that many go begging each year due to apathy upon the part of the student or lack of information. The National Merit program has tried to overcome this handicap by enlisting school administrators to concentrate on giving the exam which also is used by other scholarship agencies in picking winners. On the whole the system is the best so far devised. In its three years some 2,300 students, certainly bright scholars and in financial need of assistance college-wise, have been granted $12 million in awards. The scoring in various categories also enables the wide-awake student and teacher to appraise individual and school weaknesses for the future.

But scholarships are not the way to solve the burgeoning college problem. Loan funds are far more practical for the average student. And some way of giving tax relief to parents of college students, or the students themselves who earn more than $600 a year, would be of great benefit.

Wisconsin and Industry

Discussing Wisconsin economic development before a meeting of the Controllers' Institute in Milwaukee, Gov. Thomson observed that "there is no cause for either alarm or complacency" in the progress of Wisconsin industry.

We wish we could be as sanguine about the matter.

For there are some contrary indications that the governor has conveniently overlooked — perhaps out of the necessities of his current campaign for reelection.

The Controllers' Institute, Milwaukee chapter, has quite recently offered some of its own critical analyses of Wisconsin factors that may be deterrents to industry.

The Public Expenditures Survey, on which the governor has leaned for corroboration in some of his fiscal claims lately, recently published a report suggesting strongly that Wisconsin is losing industry because of uncontrollable conditions.

And the governor himself, in urging the legislature last year to enlarge the scope of the work of the industrial development division in his own executive establishment, inferentially argued that there is need for concern about progress in Wisconsin industrial growth.

Gov. Thomson calls for more objective research on the comparative condition of Wisconsin industry and Wisconsin economic expansion — as by the University of Wisconsin. This is a motion that will be heartily seconded by anyone interested in the welfare of this state's economic base. But it appears to us, again, that we talk about such studies and we propose them and recommend them, but somehow never get them done.

There are political fears involved here, it seems, that have deterred even the best of our state capitol leaders. We have substituted hopeful claims for facts. It may be that Wisconsin growth has been healthy and in fair proportion to that of the rest of the country. But there are periodical challenges of the claim, and it is time that we nailed down the truth of the matter unequivocally.

Neenah Council Commended For Interest in Joint Planning

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Neenah's council is to be commended for its action in leading Neenah toward a joint planning program with other municipalities of the Fox valley. Pursuance of this program will require citizen understanding, co-operation and backing. The studies leading to recommendations for each municipality and for the region as a whole by a competent regional planning organization will consume 2½ to 3 years. It shall be the responsibility of the educational committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission to assist in providing this basis for continuing citizen understanding.

It is important that residents of the valley understand at the outset the conditions facing us. First, let us take a straight look at what has been happening to the American countryside since the war, — for what is taking place from the township of Neenah to the township of Kaukauna is typical of the growth problems of many another region across the nation. Everywhere, neighboring municipalities are overlapping. Everywhere, cities are spilling into their adjacent rural areas.

As Christopher Tunnard, director of the graduate program of City Planning at Yale University says: "The auto, F. H. A., the 40-hour week, and the 'do-it-yourself' craze have exploded cities like baskets of popcorn."

Time-honored city limits are still shown on the map, but these arbitrary divisions mean less and less as rural areas become urbanized. The former distinctions between the country and the central city are being swept away. The remaining difference between them is one of density.

Take Neenah, for example: —

A perspective look south and west from Neenah's city hall illustrates the point — the city is "put to it" to keep pace with its sprawling growth into adjoining townships.

And note what is happening as industry and home builders from Menasha, Appleton and Neenah compete for space in the township of Menasha on both sides of Little Lake Buttes des Morts.

Farther to the northeast, Appleton, Kimberly, Little Chute, Combined Locks and Kaukauna are elbowing each other.

The problem boils down to this:

1. No city or village can plan for its future in isolation. "Nothing dates a man's thinking about this problem more quickly than his failure to appreciate the new differences."

2. Only by planning in co-operation with one's neighbors can there be assurance of comfort in living and convenience of movement as population in our Fox valley accelerates.

3. The Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission was set up to undertake this program in cooperation with an experienced regional planning organization.

4. It is expected that the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, at its next regular meeting in early October, will take definite action in this matter which so vitally affects not only the present generation, but the lives of our children's children.

Looking Backward

County Corn Crop Excellent

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Sept. 27, 1879.

The corn crop of this county is a handsome yield and the quality never better.

Ex-Mayor James Gilmore raised three acres of dent corn in the northwest part of the Fifth Ward in this city that would make glad the heart of the corn-grower of Southern Illinois.

A specimen ear may now be seen at the editorial office of the Crescent — over thirteen inches in length, sixteen rows, full and perfect kernels. Seventy ears will make a bushel of shelled corn.

Can any Wisconsiner beat it?

Appleton merchants were asked to attend a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the chamber of commerce office to determine the attitude of retailers here toward the erection of a new courthouse.

Two speakers, Dr. Ralph V. Landis, Appleton physician, and Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, addressed freshmen women and men students, respectively, that morning at the college.

Conservation Row A Political Blunder

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Occasionally there is committed by officials in high political place a blooper of such enormity as to dazzle the on-looker.

Such was the decision of the state conservation commission, consisting exclusively of Republican administration appointees, in the height of a campaign in which the Democrats are exploiting every possible loophole in the administration record, to hold a full fledged "hearing" on possible deficiencies in such a popular program as the fish propagation and management service of the conservation department.

With the punitive connotations involved, such a proceeding would be extraordinary at any time.

For such an "investigation" to be held at a time when the Republican administration is veritably fighting for its life in an election which can go either way has left political observers and realists among politicians breathless.

THE ISSUES

The issues are threadbare through repetition over the years. Some critics want to plant more fish; some believe there ought to be fewer planted. There are devotees of trout and muskie and wall-eyes.

For such issues to be kicked about by the politicians and the candidates during a

Mexican Schools Begin Tests on Educational TV

Washington, D. C. — Mexico has adopted television for teaching purposes on an experimental basis.

In what the ministry of public education describes as a test which may have an important bearing on future teaching methods, television sets have been installed in classrooms of ten Mexican City primary, grade and high schools.

Educational programs will be transmitted for an hour daily to the schools. The programs originate from films especially prepared by the Latin-American Institute of Educational Cinematography.

The television sets in the schools have screens measuring about eight by ten feet for classroom viewing. Each set was purchased from funds raised at regular performance at the national auditorium and no federal money was required for the project.

Material Found To Withstand Missile Heat

Washington —AP— Aircraft industry efforts to find materials that will withstand the tremendous heat-friction encountered by future aircraft, spacecraft and missiles already have produced some remarkable results.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries association, says a ceramic has been developed that will maintain its properties in 5,000 degree heat. Called galceram, its strength persists through both rapid and gradual temperature changes.

Book of Jonah's Message of Mercy Applies to Modern Troubled World

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — The Book of Jonah is one of the documents in the Bible which has long puzzled scholars and even those who are not so scholarly. It seems to be a tale out of the "Arabian Nights" and yet, as one ponders its moral, it must be that even the most righteous of men cannot be more merciful than God; that whereas man may, in his intense nationalism, seek the destruction of other men, God warms the air with a horrible stench and unpleasant noises. And the peoples of all countries are concerned. These are the final words of the Lord to Jonah as it is recorded:

"... Thou hast pity on the gourd, for which thou hast not labored, neither madest it grow, which came up in a night, and perished in a night; and should not I have pity on Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons, and also much cattle?" It is this message to total mercy that is read each year on the Day of Atonement which comes at the end of a period of holy days presently being celebrated among the Jews. In the era of narrow and even ugly nationalism, the Book of Jonah tells us that destructive revenge is not the answer to the challenges of brutality and meanness in international relations, but that in the end it is mercy that must triumph.

Jonah Nationalistic
Jonah was fiercely nationalistic and he hated Nineveh, a wicked city. He wanted that city destroyed without mercy, as much because in it lived an alien people as that it was not his city.

We live in troubled times when war and preparation for destruction of other men, God warms the air with a horrible stench and unpleasant noises. And the peoples of all countries are concerned. These are the final words of the Lord to Jonah as it is recorded:

ment as the Day of Atonement that one halts and wonders whether so much evil could befall the world at one given period by accident or whether there is some force, more powerful than ourselves, that reminds us that evil must be punished and that the sinner must atone for his sins. Is all life an accident or a scheme of things?

In the Hebrew prayer book, there is a passage of public confession which all are called upon to read out loud. In the older, orthodox ways, these prayers of public confession and atonement were shouted and the individual beat his breast.

In the more modern dispensations, it is all orderly and quiet and no tears are shed, for who is, these days, to admit that he has sinned or who is to blame himself, and not another, and not circumstances or his environment, for what he has done or for the fate that has befallen him?

No Voice Raised
So we go our merry way from one error to another and no voice is raised to halt those who have taken a delightful world to live in and turned it into a shambles to satisfy their pride and their hatred.

The Day of Atonement comes each year to the Jews as Christmas comes to the Christians and Ramadan to the Muslims. These days can be as any other or they can move the soul as a mighty glacier moves mountains.

Men search for honors and dignities and when they have collected great honors and great dignities and stand before other men as mighty figures, they still have to live with themselves and gaze upon their own countenances and listen to their own still voices in the deep night when sleep does not come and one wonders truly why his Maker permits him to live and of what worth his life may be. It is then that one might read the Book of Jonah and discover how very small the man without mercy can be.

Reynolds Says Progressives Abandon GOP

Claims Democratic Gains From Votes Of Ex-LaFollettes

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—John W. Reynolds of Green Bay, Democratic nominee for state attorney general who surprised the state by his strong run in the primary elections, says he has found the explanation for the rising fortunes of his party.

Old-line followers of the once strong LaFollette Progressive movement in Wisconsin, he says he has learned in an intensive campaign, are leaving the Republican party and voting with the Democrats in droves.

Reynolds is insisting upon such a realignment of political trends in the state, as he is consulting with Democratic headquarters here on strategy for the final election campaign.

Former New Dealers "This is now the party of old time Progressives and New Dealers," Reynolds remarked.

"They've come into the party lock, stock and barrel," he said about the supporters of the once dominant LaFollette party, which 12 years ago dissolved itself and on the motion picture of the LaFollette family commanders voted to rejoin the Republicans for candidacy purposes.

(The late Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, then commanding, lost his fight for renomination on the Republican ticket in 1946 and retired to private life. No other former spokesman of the Progressives has been able to win an important Republican nomination, although several tried.)

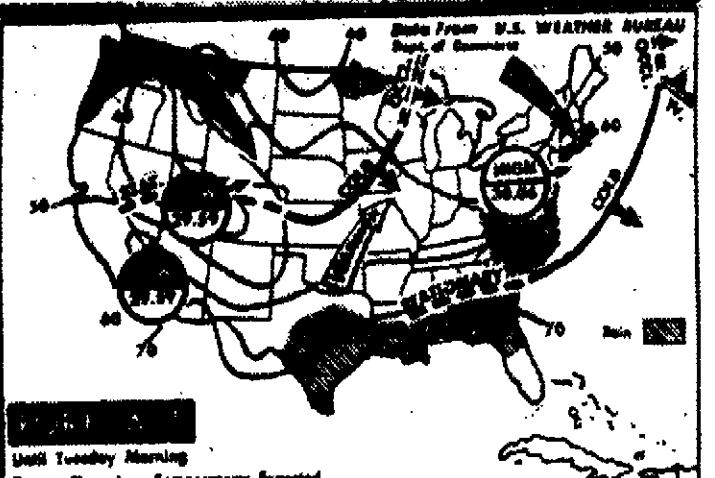

Reynolds referred to his father, the late John Reynolds, Sr., who was a Progressive and once was attorney general.

"Like other Progressives, he was an isolationist. But many of these isolationists are now disillusioned by the Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy. At least half of the people I met in the campaign who were my age or older were former Progressives," Reynolds related.

St. Mary Parents Announce Officers

Officers of the St. Mary School association have been announced as the group prepares for its fall and winter activities. They are:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Balliet, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Balliet, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Coenen, secretaries; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adrian, treasurers; Mrs. Martin Van Ryzin, picnic chairman; Mrs. John Grest, hospitality; Mrs. Robert O'Brien, publicity; Robert the once dominant LaFollette Schneider, membership, and George Leary and Fred McKeen, program.

Showers are Forecast Tonight in an area from the Virginias south to northern Florida and then west along the Gulf coast to Texas. Showers also are due in northern Minnesota and northwest Pacific regions. It will be cooler in New England, the northern plains, northern Rockies and the northern plateau. It will be warmer in the middle and upper Mississippi valley.

Summer at An Official End Today

With football already started and the World series in the offing, the fall season—known officially as the autumnal equinox—will make a timely arrival in Wisconsin Tuesday.

Summer ends and fall begins precisely 8:10 Tuesday morning. And today, the last day of summer, most of Wisconsin enjoyed pleasant weather, mild and sunny.

Cool nights, the standard forerunner of fall, have been occurring regularly. Sunday night was no exception. The temperature dipped to 37 at Lone Rock overnight, 12 degrees below the seasonal normal temperatures.

Highest reading in Appleton Sunday was a pleasant 72 recorded at the Wisconsin-Michigan Power company weather station. The overnight low was 49 and the mercury at 11 o'clock this morning had reached 69.

Indications are that some showers are likely to swing into the state tonight.

Why I Work for Red Feather...

This is the first in a series of articles written by volunteer workers in the 1958 Community Fund drive. Each person tells why he volunteered to work in the $136,132 campaign. Earl D. Miller, 1339 W. Packard street, speaks here.

I believe in it. The work done by the Appleton Community fund is for the good of the community, and its purposes and aims are very worthwhile.

The fund helps the agencies do their work and aids in coordinating social functions. By working the United Way, we are doing the whole job easier—a job that needs to be done.

Appleton Man Shoots Self

Body Found in Car South of Manawa Limits

The body of Rueben Gill, 52, route 1, Iola, and 414 N. Appleton street, Appleton, was found about 9 o'clock Sunday night by Waupaca County Patrolman Louis Adams in a car parked on a town road just south of Manawa. Gill had been shot through the head.

Dr. John Monsted, New London, acting Waupaca county coroner, ruled the wound from a .38 caliber revolver was self-inflicted and said there would be no inquest.

Gill lived for about five years in apartments above the 400 bar at the Appleton address. He had a cottage west of Iola. It is believed he was moving from Appleton to his cottage.

Friday night he told persons at the bar he had been purchasing clothes to get ready for the winter.

Waupaca county police said Gill was seen seated in his car on County Trunk B between Royalton and Manawa about 8:30 Sunday night. His car was found parked on a town road about one-quarter mile west of B about a mile south of Manawa.

The Voie Funeral home, Iola, is making funeral arrangements.

Menasha Man Shoots First Waupaca Deer

Waupaca — The first deer taken by a bowman and registered at the Waupaca police station was shot Saturday by Louis Tremmel, 315 Broad street, Menasha. His deer was a spike buck.

The only other animal taken during the opening weekend was a forked buck shot Sunday by John Muskevitch, route 2, Weyauwega.

Sister Survives

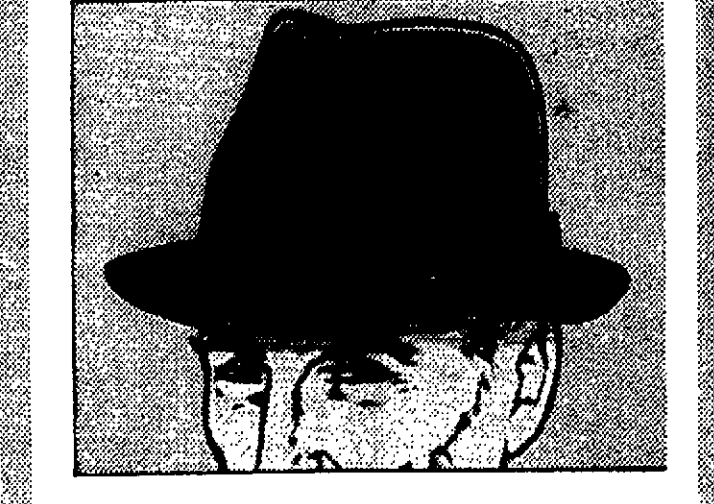

Mrs. Frank Carey, New London, is a sister of George M. Flease, 65, 1104 Mill street, New London, who was buried this morning at the Most Precious Blood Catholic cemetery, New London.

Nurses Plan Immunization

School Program Aimed at Reaching Non-Inoculated

Letters informing parents of the school system's immunization program and containing permission cards have been sent to parents of Appleton school children by school nurses.

Clinics for children receiving parental permission for immunization will begin in October and are held three times during the school year. The program, conducted in cooperation with the Outagamie County Medical society, is aimed at having all children immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and small pox, the nurses explain.

The clinics annually offer triple toxoid inoculations and booster shots and small pox vaccinations to those needing them. Shots are administered by physicians with the aid of school nurses.

Auto, Train Collide, No Serious Injury

An elderly couple escaped serious injury when their car collided with a Chicago and North Western train on Highway 45 about a mile and a half southeast of Hortonville shortly after 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moore, both 74, of Boyd, were riding southeast and the train was going east. The car skidded about 117 feet before the crash and was thrown about 73 feet across a ditch and into a field where it landed on its wheels.

The engineer, E. G. Thompson, Ashland, told state police the train was going about 40 miles an hour when the car struck the engine on the battery box cover. Moore said he was going between 50 and 55 when he saw the train.

The couple was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital for treatment of possible shock and the woman for arm and back injuries. They were treated and released.

Engaged Pair Chooses Feb. 7 As Nuptial Date

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Scheibe, route 2, Kaukauna, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ann, to John C. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Burke, Sioux City, Iowa. The couple will be married Feb. 7 at St. Nicholas Catholic church, Freedom.

The bride is a graduate of Freedom High school and the Gale institute, Minneapolis, Minn. She is employed at North Central Airlines in Minneapolis.

Her fiancé was graduated from Heelan High school, Sioux City, and served in the air force for four years. He is currently employed by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, St. Paul, Minn.

In Good Taste Invitation To Home Is In Order

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter met a young man several months ago through a mutual friend and she has been seeing him quite regularly ever since. He is working in this city but his home is in another state. Very shortly his parents will be coming to this city for a visit with him and will stay at one of the hotels. They are complete strangers to me and my daughter. Shall I call on them while they are visiting here, or might this seem as though I were rushing things. Please tell me the correct thing to do in this situation.

Answer: If both your daughter and the young man would like to, it would be friendly as well as correct to call on them at the hotel and invite them to your house to lunch, dinner or supper. If you can't invite them to a meal, then ask them to come in the afternoon for a cup of tea.

Name Question

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct name for a wife to use when she and her husband are separated, but not divorced?

Answer: Usually she keeps his name. The fact that they have different addresses shows that they have separated. The further fact that neither can remarry avoids the complication of former wife and wife No. 2 having duplicated names. This is the principal reason why the divorcee properly gives up her husband's surname and substitutes her maiden name for it.

Study Club Will Hear Lecture on South America

Members of the Tuesday Study club will hear a talk, "Flying Glimpses of South America," at the 1:30 meeting Wednesday afternoon, the second of the new season. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Albert Glockzin who, with her husband, spent a month in the continent of South America, visiting all but two of the countries.

Mrs. Alice Bruce will be hostess for the dessert luncheon. On Oct. 8 Mrs. William Grotenhuis will serve as hostess and Mrs. S. A. Laird will review "Tiger of the Snows," a book by James Ramsey Ullman and Tenzing Norgay.

54th Anniversary

The group will mark its 55th anniversary with a luncheon meeting Oct. 22. Mrs. A. G. Oosterhous will review Dr. Thomas A. Dooley's "Deliver Us from Evil."

"The Three Lives of Harriet Hubbard Ayer" by Margaret Hubbard and Isabella Taves will be reviewed at the Nov. 5 meeting. Mrs. C. L. Clark will be in charge of the program and Mrs. E. A. Dettman will be hostess.

Mrs. W. A. Gross will discuss "Land Beyond the Nile" by Malcolm Forsberg at the Nov. 19 session when Mrs. Fred Arnold will act as hostess. Mrs. Blanche Wettengel will give the program at the Dec. 3 meeting and Mrs. Oosterhous will be hostess.

Mrs. Dettman will review August Derleth's "The House on the Mound" on Dec. 17 and Mrs. C. C. Nelson will be hostess.

"My Arabian Days and Nights" by Eleanor Calverly, M.D., will be reviewed by Mrs. Mabel Johnson on Jan. 7 and Mrs. W. O. Thiede will serve as hostess. On Jan. 21 Mrs. C. J. Maahs will be hostess to the group and Mrs. Grotenhuis will give the program, reviewing "In a Quiet Land" by John O'Donoghue.

"The Undiscovered Country" by Jay and Audrey Walz will be reviewed Feb. 4. Mrs. C. E. Roach will have charge of the program and Mrs. E. E. Sager will be hostess.

On Feb. 18 the group will discuss the National Business and Professional Women's convention and tour. Mrs. W. D. Peterson will act as hostess.

Mrs. E. J. Goodrich will review Marion Anderson's "My Lord, What a Morning" at the Feb. 4 session and will illustrate her discussion with records. On March 18 a program on Borden Deal's "Dunbar's Cove" will be the feature and Mrs. Nelson will be the reviewer. Mrs. Johnson will be the reviewer.

"Miller Burrows" "The Dead Sea Scrolls" will be discussed at the April 1 meeting by Mrs. Sager. Mrs. Goodrich will be hostess. Mrs. Ruth Farmer and Mrs. Laird will be hostesses at the April 15 meeting and Mrs. Peterson will review "The Lunts" by George Freedley.

"A Great American" will be the topic subject April 29 and Mrs. Maahs will be in charge of the program with Mrs. Gross as hostess. Mrs. Farmer will present the May 13 program and Mrs. Abendroth will be hostess. The season will be concluded with a guest day tea on May 27.

Mrs. R. E. Miller Pair Takes Trip East on Honeymoon

Currently honeymooning in the east are Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Miller who were married at 11 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Therese Catholic church in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Florian Milbauer.

The bride who was Kathleen Mary Stadler before her marriage is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Stadler, 309 E. Spring street. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Miller, 720 W. Commercial street. Mr. Stadler escorted his daughter to the altar.

Miss Judy Miller, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. The bride's sisters, Mrs. Roman Weyenberg, Little Chute, and Miss Marlene Stadler acted as bridal attendants.

The bridegroom's cousin, Donald Manthei, Milwaukee, acted as best man and Roman Weyenberg and Roger Mocco, Coleman, cousin of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Another cousin, Gary Mocco, Coleman, and Paul Van Zeeland, Little Chute, acted as ushers.

After the ceremony there was a dinner at the home of the bride's parents. The newlyweds were later honored at a 6 o'clock supper at Stroebe's Island haven which was also the scene for the reception and dance that evening.

The bride, an Appleton High school graduate, is employed at the Riverside Paper company. Mr. Miller attended Appleton High school and is employed at the Elm Tree bakery.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will reside in Appleton.

Vocational School Homemakers Slate Program for '58-'59

Appleton Vocational school homemakers have announced their program schedule for 1958-59. The organization which is open to all Appleton homemakers, will hold its first meeting at 1:45 Wednesday afternoon in room 202 of the Vocational school.

A demonstration of dried floral arrangements will be presented by the Mmes. Albert Bennett and Ray Kuhn, both of Hortonville. Mrs. Ray Olm, program chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Clifford William, co-chairman.

On Oct. 8, the club will tour Green Bay stores and industries and on Oct. 28, will view a demonstration on Thanksgiving cookery. A holiday craft workshop will be featured at 10 o'clock on Nov. 19, with members to bring lunches to the session.

Holiday season will be marked with a noon Christmas party Dec. 10. New Year activities will open Jan. 28 with a travelogue on Finland by Miss Nyla Bock, county home agent, who visited that country as an 4-H International Exchange student.

Winter programs will include an illustrated lecture on interior decoration Feb. 25, and a mental health talk March 25. Officers will be elected at the latter meeting.

A dessert card party has been scheduled April 1 at Ambrosia room of Elm Tree bakery and a demonstration on table decorations April 22.

Officers will be installed May 27 at a banquet, with speaker to be Mrs. L. M. Keefe. A picnic on June 10 will close the program year.

Mrs. Frank Godec, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Diedrick.

Newlyweds Pick Home At Chilton

A home at route 1, Chilton, is being made by newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pethan, who were wed Sept. 13 at St. Mary Catholic church, Marytown.

The bride, the former Valeria Mueller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mueller, route 2, New Holstein, was claimed in a 9:30 ceremony, performed by the Rev. George Budde.

Mr. Mueller escorted his daughter to the altar. Sister Francis Romunda served as organist and choir director.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Anna Marie Mueller, Marytown, maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Arlene, Clare and Marion Pethan, sisters of the bridegroom and Charlesburg residents.

Bernard Pethan, Charlesburg, was best man for his brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Pethan, route 2, Chilton.

Groomsmen were Bernard and Wilmer Mueller, brothers of the bride and Marytown residents. Roger Fuhrman and Cyril Schneider, both of Marytown, performed ushering duties.

The pair honeymooned in the western states.

The bride is employed in the office of New Holstein Public schools and her bridegroom is employed by Chilton Metal Products company, Chilton.

Our Children

Don't Overload Youngsters With Work, Many Activities

BY ANGELO PATRI

In our anxiety to have children learn to work, to master school lessons, to develop power in the various fields of usefulness, we are likely to undo what we try to do by forcing the learners to do too much.

A teacher introduces a new process in arithmetic. The class takes it up well. They have worked five examples correctly and seem to be enjoying the work so the teacher says, "Now go ahead and do the next 10." That is what makes children so discouraged about lessons. "You do the lesson and then she says, 'Go ahead and do a lot more.' She's never satisfied."

Then there is the everlasting trouble with homework. Each teacher hands out an assignment without so much as a glance at what the rest of the staff are giving out and the result is too much.

Parents can be guilty here too. Ambition for the children can force them to put too much work on the youngsters. The school, perhaps, does not offer a foreign language the parents want their children to learn so they arrange for lessons after school. Then there are dancing and music lessons, club meetings — all of which they think important in the education of their children.

They are important but after all we must always make choices, select the most important activities and forget about others because, in whatever fields of activity we work there must be room left for living.

This spare time for living, just plain living, being alive and enjoying it, is as essential to human growth, development and sanity as any course can be. We are getting to the place where to be idle for a space of time in the day is reprehensible.

Yet that bit of free time can be the source of nourishment for the work in the allotted time. It can so enrich the mind, so relax the body, as to add power to both for use in working time.

Prof. Henry Eyring, dean of the graduate school of the University of Utah and chemistry professor, will conduct the seminar. The symposium will consist of four lecture periods, two each day, each followed by a discussion session.

Lecture Subjects

The first day's lectures will be on "Development of Physical Principles Needed to Treat Cellulose. Absolute Reaction Rate Theory, Viscosity and Diffusion," and "Viscosity and Diffusion and What They Reveal about Cellulose."

Topics for the second day are "Swelling and Osmotic Pressure Measurement of Cellulose and Cellulose Products," and "Some Important Cellulose Reactions."

A dinner meeting will be held at 6:30 the first night at the Conway hotel. Members are to make reservations with D. J. MacLaurin at the Institute of Paper Chemistry by Oct. 6.

Check-Out for Pillows

The reason for a crick in the neck first thing in the morning may be that the pillow slept on has outlived its best days. Balance it on one hand to see. If the pillow droops, it can't support the head as it should. And what kind should a new pillow be? Not necessarily the softest one — the old, inadequate pillow is soft enough. Resiliency matters more. Check new pillows to see how they respond to pressure. In general, the more completely a pillow rebounds when pressure is released, the better it is.

Waterfowl feathers, with their naturally curved shafts, provide more buoyancy than landfowl feathers, which have straight shafts. And as luxurious as a down pillow is, the addition of landfowl feathers to down improves it, supplies the comfortable springiness that down hasn't alone. Then there's weight to guide a good choice. Choose the lighter one of two feather pillows that are of equal size and plumpness. If allergies are involved, a latex pillow avoids trouble, and new synthetic fiber fluffs for pillow filling bring new qualities of resilience and are also non-allergenic.

Your Problems

Tickets for Two May Shove Slow-Starter Into Date Bid

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I went to work in this office because it has the highest marriage rate in town. Last year seven girls married fellows they met at their jobs here.

There must be something wrong with me because I haven't been able to land a date and I've been here two months. I'm not beautiful but I dress in good taste and make the most of a better than average figure.

A certain young man in this office has me going around in circles. He's single, good-looking, and during working hours shows real interest but he never mentions taking me out. Almost every day he brings me a sack of peanuts when he returns from lunch. Does this mean anything? How can I get him to ask for a date without being too brazen?—THE BLONDE

I knew a fellow who used to buy peanuts for the monkeys in the zoo almost every day but as far as I know he never asked any of them out.

Apparently the lad is a slow-starter. Often what is needed to get this type off dead center is a gentle shove. Invite him to the theatre, a concert, anything that makes sense. Tell him you happen to have two tickets. (This is easy — you buy two instead of one.) If, after the initial date he doesn't issue an invitation on his own, write him off.

DEAR ANN: I've read a great deal in your column about women who were both neat and sloppy in the extreme. My problem is my husband. He's such a stickler for detail that it's maddening. I've seen him take cuticle scissors and even up the fringe on the rug. He's constantly straightening pictures, window shades and furniture. He checks the doors four and five times a night, also the gas jets. What can I do about a man as meticulous as this?—VERA

This is more than "meticulous"—this is sick. Your husband should see a doctor. The compulsion to check and recheck and go overboard on straightening things is a manifestation of other troubles. His neurotic behavior could spill over into other areas. He needs help.

DEAR ANN: Two years ago my husband divorced me for a younger woman — MUCH younger. In fact, his new wife is 23. I'm 44.

Our 21-year-old son was terribly grieved when his Dad did this to me. For a year he wouldn't speak to his father. After considerable pleading, the boy accepted an invitation to spend a weekend with his father and the new bride. They have an attractive lodge which is open all year. The fishing and hunting is excellent. The boy has gone up four or five times and always seemed to enjoy it.

Last night his dad called and they had a long conversation. My son made some weak excuses for not accepting an invitation next weekend. He finally said he had to play in a bridge tournament which was a lie.

After much hesitation he broke down and told me why he lied. On the last trip, it seems his father's young wife made some improper advances toward him. He said he never wants to take a chance on being alone with her again. Of course his father knows nothing of this.

Do you feel the boy should go up there again? Should he tell his father? I can't think straight on this subject — naturally. Please help me.—CLARISSA

The boy should say nothing to his father. When the roof falls in it will be bad enough without having his own son in the act.

The boy should not accept future invitations to the lodge. He should make every effort to avoid a shameful hussy who would pursue a youngster right under her husband's nose. If it's his father, and not the hunting and fishing the boy is interested in, he can visit his Dad in town.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

The main difficulty for North-South in the following hand was in reaching the slam contract, and since they got that hurdle it was too bad that the declarer couldn't find the winning line of play.

South, dealer.

Experts of the "scientific school" would doubtless raise an eyebrow at North's leap to three no trump on the first round, terming that action "abrupt, space-consuming, etc.," but the hard fact is that North displayed imagination and the right amount of enterprise throughout the auction. Possession of four cards in South's heart suit did not necessarily mean that the combined hands should be played in hearts rather than no trump — the distribution of the North hand was such that a suit contract had no special attraction. When, however, South (who gave the proper respect to his own high-card count of 16 points) indicated that he held a two-suiter or semi-two-suiter. North was glad to jump — support the major.

West, duly impressed by the jump-no-trump bid at his left, and by South's indication of a two-suiter, decided to lead a trump. Declarer gazed unhappily at the dummy, cashed a few tricks aimlessly, and then tossed his cards on the table, saying, "Oh, I can't eat the spade and the club loser — down one."

South was wrong — he could have "eaten" one of the losers. All he had to do was lead his low spade toward dummy. If West put up the ace, South would make two spade tricks, five hearts, three diamonds and two top clubs — 12 tricks; and if West ducked, the spade king would hold, of course, and South would quickly ditch his spade queen on dummy's third diamond. Then he could well afford to give up a club trick and claim the slam.

Fashionable Fall Ahead Evident at Parade at Valley Fair Center

That Fox Valley women will be as fashionably dressed this autumn as their sisters on New York's Fifth avenue was convincingly demonstrated Saturday afternoon at the style show at Valley Fair Shopping center.

For nearly an hour, local models paraded casual and dress outfits in the center mall. Males also appeared on the runway to show the latest in smart menswear.

The season's new unfitted silhouette predominated in chemise, overblouse and trapeze styles but evening wear was frankly feminine in sheath attire. Women's skirts were hiked but at a flattering length while natural contours were subtly suggested in most fashions.

Autumns Prints, Colors

Attracting audience attention were such items as blue and green prints, red and grey plaids, startling blue and perimmon hues in soft wool, jersey and wool and miracle fiber combinations.

Large face-framing collars, fur stoles and fur trimmed jackets and back pleating in suits, coats and dresses were displayed. Lending a costume look were smart accents in accessories, the bloused cloche, trim tam, feathered cocktail hat, wide-swinging leather bag and tapered toed shoes in both "little" and high-heeled pumps.

Black Has Flair

Basic black for evening took on new flair. One winner was a sleek harem dress with free-flowing back paneling

Weeks for Forum Meetings Set by Chamber Committee

The weeks for the three 1958-59 forum meetings of Appleton's service clubs have been selected by the chamber of commerce's forum committee.

The first meeting will come either Nov. 3 or 4; the second, Dec. 8, 9 or 10, and third, the first week of February.

Edward Adam, committee chairman, said speakers are being considered on the basis of public speaking ability rather than subject matter.

Fete Robert McGees At Saturday Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McGee, 611 E. Randall street, entertained Saturday night for their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGee, 1911 N. Oneida street, who will move to Marinette Sept. 30.

A Soft Fur Stole Accented the slim line dress worn by Mrs. Leo Rohan, Neenah, when she appeared in the Valley Fair Shopping center fashion parade Saturday afternoon. The show was one of several featured events of Fall Opening Appreciation days sponsored over the weekend by the center's merchant association.

Yom Kippur Period Observed This Week

Holiest Day of Jewish Calendar
Begins With Kol Nidre Tuesday

Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, will be observed in homes and synagogues beginning at sunset Tuesday.

The Hebrew day of atonement is a time devoted to self-examination of the soul and resolutions to live on a higher moral plane in the future. It marks the conclusion of the 10-day period of repentance which began with Rosh Hashanah last week.

The Yom Kippur eve synagogue liturgy begins with the singing of the celebrated and majestic Kol Nidre, Hebrew for "all vows," a musical plea for remission of hasty and impetuous decisions.

Prayers and sermons at evening services and devotions stress man's capacity to use the powers given him by God to overcome error and dereliction.

Typical of the worship service on Yom Kippur, observed by man with fasting, is the passage from the Hebrew prayerbook:

"Those who have been bruised and beaten down in life's battle He would have restored to their birthright of freedom and independence. In His all-wise providence, God has appointed this day of atonement to reconcile each human being to his destiny and to restore peace and tranquility to every heart and home."

Zion congregation, a reform Jewish group which meets at the Masonic temple, will hold Yom Kippur eve services at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening and Yom Kippur services at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Other Services
At Moses Montefiore synagogue, Kol Nidre services in Hebrew and English will be at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening, with Canto Seymour Finn officiating. The sermon and English services will be conducted by Rabbi Gilbert Silverstein.

On Wednesday, Hebrew services are scheduled for 8 o'clock in the morning, a sermon at 10 o'clock in the morning, a yizkor or memorial service at 10:20 in the morning, a musaf service in Hebrew and English at 10:30 in the morning, the mincha at 4:30 in the afternoon and the neila or concluding service at 6:30 in the evening.

Services for Beth Israel congregation will begin at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening and 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, continuing through the day.

Fund Drive Control Board Gets Approval County Government Change Threat to Rural Areas

Organization of a fund drive control board was approved by the chamber of commerce's board of directors Friday.

Directors told the special committee to select a 12-member board, give the new board the advantages of its research and then bow out. The control board would not be a chamber activity.

Other Actions
The directors and the committee apparently are agreed that the control board should pass only on major fund drives, Chamber Sec. Kenneth Corbett said.

The directors also:
- Agreed to send a delegation of chamber members to an Oct. 14 leadership program at Beaver Dam. The United States chamber will conduct the workshop.

Approved establishment of a new program for the consumer credit bureau. W. Theodore Bernhard, credit bureau committee chairman, will hold a first meeting at 5:30 this afternoon at the Conway hotel. Chairman of the special organizing committee is Eli Jandrin. Members are Theodore G. Hartjes and Edward Adam.

Blue Cross Claims 75,000 From Physician's Plan

Madison — Officials of the Wisconsin Blue Cross said Thursday more than 75,000 former members of the surgical-medical plan sponsored by the State Medical society are now enrolled in Blue Cross.

The organization said the members were obtained by taking them away from the Wisconsin physicians service of the State Medical society.

Earl Thayer, the assistant secretary of the society, said, however, that the figures were "confusing and misleading."

"In the present atmosphere of confusion many people are changing back and forth and no one knows for sure how many people are enrolled in either plan," Thayer said.

The release from Blue Cross was the latest development in a statewide conflict between Wisconsin Blue Cross and Wisconsin Physicians service for health insurance subscribers.

Lobbyist Maintains

County Government Change Threat to Rural Areas

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The movement to reform county board representation is a continuation of the legislative reapportionment pattern which unfairly deprived rural Wisconsin of some of its traditional strength in the legislature, a town government leader reports.

The comment came from Ben Hanneman, Wisconsin Rapids, secretary and chief lobbyist for the Wisconsin Towns association.

County government adjustments granting more representation to the cities, which now are frequently out-voted by numerically inferior rural neighborhoods, have been discussed.

Hanneman said the criticisms of the county board form of government represent a disguised attempt to foist a "commission form of government" upon the counties of the state, and complained that cities in fact have frequently tried to "pack" their county boards by increasing their wards.

"We have a check and balance system, with every town and village having a vote and the cities having one vote from every ward," Hanneman said. He indicated county board representation will be discussed

Feel Estate of Emperor Halts City's Growth

Tokyo — The palace of Emperor Hirohito is surrounded by 300 acres in the heart of Tokyo. Some Japanese feel that the rambling estate is in the way of Tokyo's growth.

A Tokyo university architecture expert has suggested it might be a good thing if the emperor moved to another part of town for the sake of future city planning. Prof. Eika Takeyama also said a road should be built under the palace to ease traffic congestion.

An Imperial household official said construction of a road under the palace "is not unthinkable."

But the imperial household is going ahead with plans to build a new palace, inside the present grounds, to replace a section of the old one damaged during the war.

Emperor Hirohito's grandfather, Emperor Meiji, moved into the present palace when he transferred the capital from Kyoto some 80 years ago.

Suggestions that the palace grounds be turned over to the public, either as a park or as a housing estate, have come up from time to time. The area is barred to the public except for New Year's day and the emperor's birthday when the gates are thrown open.

One suggestion is that Hirohito move to the Akasaka palace — an imitation, miniature Versailles palace not far from the center of the capital. It is now used as the library of parliament.

Brown County Site of New Health Program

Service to Aged, Chronically Ill
Scheduled to Start Next Month

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A new demonstration program in improving the health of the aged and the chronically ill will begin in Brown County about Oct. 1.

The program is being sponsored jointly by the state and national governments and the Brown County Medical society.

Dr. Milton Feig of the state department of health staff reports that physical therapists have been employed and will begin work with aged persons in private nursing homes and in their own homes.

our government," the English language daily said.

The foreign ministry announced Friday it was canceling Robinson's visa because of "blasphemous" remarks made about President Chiang Kai-shek and the nationalist government in the prologue and epilogue of a recent NBC television interview.

An administrator of the program has yet to be hired. He will be deputy to Dr. G. M. Shinnars, state health officer in the Green Bay district.

Purpose of the Brown County program is to show possibilities for improved care of the aged in any other community, Dr. Feig explained.

With the lengthening average life span and increasing proportion of the aged in the general population, the care of the elderly and ailing has become a more critical public health problem, he said.

The experimental service is being financed with a $62,000 grant of the national government to the state department of health.

Similar programs elsewhere in the country have shown that significant numbers of the aged can be taught to return to private living upon discharge from nursing homes, it was reported.

Truckers May Seek Federal Road Controls

Association Head Cites Arguments Between States

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Unless the states are able to handle their conflicts in truck licensing and taxation, the motor transport industry will look to the national government for relief, a spokesman for the Wisconsin Motor Carriers association has warned.

Referring to the quarrel between Wisconsin and Illinois about a renewal of a truck reciprocity compact, General Manager John P. Varda of the association said:

"We must be prepared to take this matter to the federal level if the states cannot create a compatible situation. All other states have been able to reach satisfactory agreements with Wisconsin with the exception of Ohio and New York."

More Competition
The inauguration of new services by the railroads and the evolution of new railroad rate-making methods are important for the trucking competitors, Varda said. The latter is especially important to long-haul truckers, he warned.

The association executive said the industry ought to be prepared to collaborate with the United States Bureau of Public Roads on current engineering studies relating to

Ratios Determined

Equalized Values Show Tax Shares

Bear Creek will pay the smallest share and Appleton the largest when county and state levies against real estate and personal property are set this fall.

Various ratios each municipality will pay were presented to the county board (acting as the equalization committee) Friday.

The following table lists complete state taxation department figures on the equalized value for Outagamie county cities, villages and towns. The total figure for the county is $462,878,170, an increase of more than $56,000,000 from a year ago.

truck sizes and weights and the deterioration of highways, in connection with the interstate highway construction program.

National and state highway policy will affect the transport business and the economics of freight hauling, he said. He noted that truckers are already feeling the effect of the flight of industry from urban centers to the rural countryside and the suburbs.

Varda recalled that the Interstate highway act was accompanied by special transport and automotive taxes, and predicted that the sums made available won't be sufficient to complete the system outlined. There will be a demand for more tax revenues for the system, he said.

"Harvey," That Popular Broadway hit about a man and a mythical rabbit, comes to television tonight with Art Carney in the lead comedy role. It's the "Show of the Month" from 8:30 to 10 o'clock over WBAY-TV.

'Harvey' Brings Big Record to TV Tonight

BY JINGO
Mary Chase's "Harvey" comes to WBAY-TV at 8:30 tonight with an enviable record of theatrical accomplishment. The comedy opened Nov. 1, 1944, on Broadway, won the Pulitzer prize in 1945 and was performed 1,775 times before closing Jan. 15, 1949.
Frank Fay was the first Elwood P. Dowd, the man with the imaginary tall white rabbit. Josephine Hull played Dowd's long-suffering, widowed sister trying to keep her home respectable in order to marry off her beau-barren daughter.
Joe E. Brown, Rudy Vallee and James Dunn played Fay's role in the stage show; James Stewart took over in the movie; Miss Hull recreated her role in the movie.
Tonight it's the wacky plumber Art Carney as the aging bachelor given to social drinking and Marion Lorne, the flutty teacher of the old "Mr. Peepers" series, as the sister. Others in the cast include Loring Smith, Larry Blyden, Charlotte Rae and Elizabeth Montgomery.
Carney tried out the role a year ago in New England summer stock.
Originally, the play was titled "The Pooka" — pooka is an old Celtic word meaning a wise but mischievous fairy in the form of a large animal. It was changed at the show's Boston tryout by Brock Pemberton, its producer.
Pemberton, in that tryout, also experimented with a visible rabbit, but discarded it when the play lost some lines.
The sponsor invited critics to view the first dress rehearsal of the comedy in New York Sunday and pass along their judgments before the home audience has a chance to make its own decision.
"Although I, personally, have reservations about judging a TV show before the pub-and critics outside New York have had a chance to see it," says Charles Mercer of Associated Press, "I personally, have absolutely no reservations about 'Harvey.' It's superb entertainment and you'll miss something if you don't see it tonight."

Today and Tuesday two new shows hit the networks, seven return and one changes times. Bert Parks brings a daily half hour variety show to Channels 4 and 11 at 3:30 this afternoon. It's called "Country Fair."

Tonight at 8 "Peter Gunn," billed as an adult mystery series, debuts on the same channels. It stars Craig Stevens as an after-sundown sleuth, Lola Albright as his songstress girl friend and Hope Emerson as the owner of saloon known as "Mother's."

A speeding car, a stick of dynamite and a phone call from a pretty girl are keys to his first case.

Returning are: "Father Knows Best," to 7:30 tonight on WBAY-TV in switch from Channels 4 and 11, its home for several years.

"Milt Bruhn," at 10:15 tonight on WTMJ-TV, with Badger football films and notes.

"Cheyenne," on WFRV-TV, at 6:30 Tuesday night, with Ty Hardin the new hero who's rumored not too long for the saddle.

"Dragnet," at 6:30 Tuesday night on Channels 4 and 11, a new time for the long-running crime series.

"George Gobel Show," at 7 o'clock Tuesday night on Channels 4 and 11, same

The farmers are receiving approximately 8 per cent less for milk now than in 1947-49 while the consumers are paying 15 per cent more for all their dairy products than in 1947-49. And, still, criticism of increased prices falls on the dairy farmer. Farmers must meet increased costs while their income has fallen off. Don't criticize the dairy farmer. Help him get a fair share of the consumers' dollar.

Lawrence Says: Firmness of Ike, Dulles
Can Avert War

Time for American Public Opinion to Back Up President

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — There is a commendable firmness in the heroic way by which President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles are conducting American policy toward red China and its military ally, the Soviet Union.

It's a firmness that can save mankind from a world war. Had the same firmness been exhibited by the west toward Hitler in the 1930s, World War II might never have happened.

The same kind of influences, unfortunately, which were prevalent in Europe and brought on the second world war have been manifest in recent weeks in this country. There has been unwitting and unintentional encouragement given to the dictators in Moscow and Peking. Whether motivated by political partisanship or by misguided pacifism or by some of the "let's-do-business-with-Hitler" selfishness that today is calling out for recognition of red China "as a fact," the truth is this apparent acceptance of the communist viewpoint has afforded Nikita Khrushchev an opportunity to take advantage of American dissension and disunity.

Close examination of the latest letter from the Soviet premier shows that he adopts virtually every one of the points which have been made by the anti-administration spokesmen in this country when they argue the China problem.

Wrong Argument

There are, for instance, the claims, frequently reiterated, that Chiang Kai-shek represents no one but himself, or that the offshore islands belong to the mainland of China anyhow, or that they aren't worth fighting for, or that the president and Mr. Dulles do not represent true American public opinion and are trying to provoke a war. Emphasis on this line of argument has misled many a man on the street in this country.

The Soviet premier repeats all this with a confidently expressed feeling that he has American public opinion back of him. But where Khrushchev miscalculates is in his demand that the United States get out of Formosa.

Up to now there have been in this country some serious advocates of "two Chinas" —

BACKACHE Worker Rescues
Three Children
From Cave-in

Green Bay — A 6-year-old girl and her 9-year-old twin brothers were rescued by a construction worker Saturday afternoon after they were trapped by a cave-in of a new home excavation.

One of the twins, Ricky, was covered except for his feet. The other children were standing up in dirt as high as their waists.

Kenneth Larson of Green Bay, who was working at a nearby home, heard the children's cries and rushed to the scene. He rescued the boy whose head was buried and freed the others.

Vicky, 6, received a broken arm and still is at Belin Memorial hospital. Ricky has an arm injury which has not been diagnosed, his mother said this morning, and Randy, the other twin, has a deep head cut. Both, however, were released from the hospital.

In Politics

Divide Evenly
On Pastor Taking Active Role

Green Lake — Laymen attending one of the workshop sessions during the twelfth annual laymen's conference of the Wisconsin Council of Churches over the weekend divided evenly on whether the minister has the right to participate actively in political affairs.

Laymen first voted 40 to 20 saying they thought he had taken such a right but shifted to an even 30 to 30 on a second ballot. The workshop was part of the 3-day session attended by close to 500 industrialists, businessmen, professional men, working men and wives at the American Baptist Assembly grounds here. Among those recognized with large delegations were Appleton with 23 registered and Neenah with 15. Menasha also had several present.

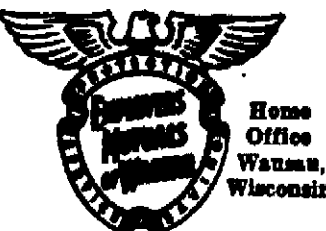

Arvo Vaurio, Neenah, program chairman who will entertain study for the ministry, was presented with several mementos and gifts. The term of Carl Steiger, Oshkosh, on the governing board ended and Dr. Don W. Davis, Milwaukee, formerly of Neenah, was elected treasurer.

The preacher does have the right to express his opinion on contemporary matters from the pulpit as well as a need to preach on the ethical aspects of economic, social and political questions, the laymen felt by strong majorities.

They did not think the minister should carry the gospel into taverns in an effort to reach the people. "You can't reach them if they are not ready to receive it," Municipal Judge Ralph F. Gunn of Janesville commented.

Nor did they think the minister should use stunts or sensational methods of publicity to attract people to the church.

Seventy votes said the minister has the right to speak on sex and marriage with not one vote cast in dissent. Personal evangelism and visitation was held not a job for the minister alone. The minister should not build the church around his own personality.

He does have a duty to criticize as well as comfort the members of his congregation, the laymen felt.

Oppose List of Rules
Should the Christian church have a prescribed list of rules those recognized with large delegations were Appleton

By a 2 to 1 vote they ruled, it should not. Preaching is the most important duty of the clergyman with teaching second, they cited. Other duties include counselling, home visitation, administering the sacraments, participating in community affairs and business administration.

Another workshop group evaluated the 10 Commandments in order of importance and gave the commandment against having other gods as the most importance with "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" second. Jack Bylow, Neenah, was moderator of this workshop.

Also ranked among the top four were the commandment against killing and the one for observing the sabbath day and keeping it holy.

A third workshop group considered the teachings of Christ and a present day application of those teachings.

Savings Bond Sales
Reach $4,177,375
In 4-County Area

Sales of government savings bonds during the first eight months of 1958 in the 4-county Fox Cities area totaled $4,177,375.

Winnebago county led with $2,132,481. Outagamie county reported $1,430,989. Waupaca county had $319,325 and Calumet county reported $234,580.

Total sales in Wisconsin during the first eight months of the year amounted to $74,327,376—66.8 per cent of the state's goal. August sales were $9,133,019.

Expensive Cars, Air Conditioners
Reflect U. S. Values, Laymen Told

Church Leader Hits Judging Right, Wrong
On Political, Not Spiritual, Basis

BY ALLAN EKVALL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Lake — Cadillacs on a field of gold with crossed bathtubs and air conditioners would be the American flag if someone were to design one that would be symbolic of our values, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Philadelphia, chief executive officer of the Presbyterian general assembly, told over 500 laymen and women here Saturday night.

Dr. Blake

Speaking at the twelfth annual laymen's conference of the Wisconsin Council of Churches held at the American Baptist assembly grounds, Dr. Blake called for more spirited and moral thinking and less judging right or wrong in political terms.

Dr. Blake, who served three years as president of the National Council of Churches, called for a renewal of unity in the church. "We are wrecking our witness to the non-Christian world by our differences and divisions," he emphasized.

"As long as we allow our prejudices and differences to stand in the way, the church fails in its mission and instead of unity it just dies a little more. Once lay people realize what the mission of the church is, they will begin to crack their denomination straitjackets."

He also criticized those who look upon the church as a club and those who stay away from the church because they feel they can't pay their "dues."

"The Christian church dare not be silent in political upheavals or in matters of race," Dr. Blake stated as he mentioned Negroes still do not vote although granted that right almost 100 years ago.

Olympic Star Talks

Maintaining brotherhood in a day of prejudice also was stressed by the Rev. Bob Richards, Olympic pole vaulting champion and decathlon star who is now minister at large for the Church of the Brethren, in his Saturday morning talk.

"Future peace depends not so much on political ideologies but on maintenance of racial brotherhood," stressed the youthful minister.

Other challenges facing Christian laymen, were listed by the minister: they were:

1. Using the genius of man for creative rather than destructive things of life.
2. Maintaining health in a mechanized society.
3. Emphasizing the total personality of man in a day of specialization.
4. Maintaining personal relationships in an impersonal world. "One of the tragedies is that people don't take an interest in people. Such an interest would solve juvenile delinquency."
5. The economic need of people around the world today.
6. Meeting the dynamic of communism. "It won't be bombed or wished away but defeated only by a greater passion."
7. Making religion live. "Maintain a spiritual perspective in a material day, where one out of three homes is broken by divorce, where there are seven million chronic alcoholics in the country and where tranquilizer pills are consumed by the tons." The Olympic champion turned preacher called upon numerous incidents and personalities of the field of athletics in illustrating his talk, pointing out 85 per cent of the country's top athletes pray.

The greatest challenge facing us though is that which Christ gave when he said, "Follow Me," he concluded.

Board Ponders
Golf Clubhouse
For Youth Center

The park board will know today or Tuesday whether it will operate Reid Municipal Golf course clubhouse this winter as a youth center.

Board Sec. Arthur Jones said Don Bartelt, Reid professional, will decide on the board's offer of management of the youth center. The board has discussed the possibilities of extending clubhouse use in the off-season several times before. Members have expressed interest in getting full use of the $150,000 structure. If the board establishes the center, it probably also will construct a skating rink and toboggan slide nearby. Dancing, games and food also would be featured.

Equipment Funds For Proposed New Center Allocated

UW Regents Grant $145,000 for Menasha; $175,000 to Kenosha

Madison — Appreciation of local plans to erect a new extension center building to replace inadequate facilities at Kenosha and in the Fox river valley center now located at Menasha was expressed Saturday by the University of Wisconsin board of regents. They allocated $145,000 for equipment at Menasha and $175,000 at Kenosha. The board again reaffirmed its intention to continue and expand the cooperative education program in the two areas.

Outagamie and Winnebago county boards are considering building a $500,000 to $600,000 center to house 400 students. Extension classes are held at the Menasha Vocational school and in a rented downtown building.

Kenosha city and county are planning joint erection of a new center costing $750,000 for 500 to 600 freshmen and sophomores. Classes are held in the Kenosha school of Vocational and Adult Education. Building space is supplied by local communities while the university provides capital equipment directly related to instruction and maintains the teaching and administrative staff.

Endorse Program
Voicing appreciation to Kelley for their concern over the educational welfare of their young people, the regents also endorsed the center program as an "integral and important part of the instructional program of the university both in the past and future."

Committees in the two areas had found facilities inadequate "either to serve present needs or expanded enrollment," according to the regents' resolution. Attending the Kenosha center are 315 students while studying at the Menasha center are 160 pupils.

The funds for equipment must be approved by the coordinating committee for higher education and the state building committee. The work also is included in the 1958-61 proposed building priority request.

Rev. Jacobson Gets Release

Minnesota Pastor
To Begin Nov. 2
At St. Timothy

Menasha — The Rev. Robert C. Jacobson has been granted a release from the Lutheran Church of the Atonement at Bloomington, Minn., and will begin as pastor of St. Timothy Evangelical Lutheran church here Nov. 2, Robert D. Suess, congregation vice president, announced today.

The Minnesota church Sunday voted to release him to take the Menasha pastorate. St. Timothy church members heard him as a guest preacher Aug. 24 and voted to call him the following Sunday. He personally accepted the call last week.

He will succeed the Rev. Franklin C. Hglund who left in June for a pastorate at Albuquerque, N.M.

Since his ordination in 1955, the Rev. Mr. Jacobson has been a member of the church vocations committee of the Synod of the Northwest for three years, pastoral adviser of the Minnesota Lutheran Men's Brotherhood in 1956-57 and currently is a member of the executive board of the Martin Luther Manor, a home for the aged in the Northwest synod's central conference.

Steinle, Thomson To Speak at Rally

Twin City Republicans Set Kickoff
Dinner With Talks by Candidates

Menasha — Roland J. Steinle, Republican candidate for United States senator, and Gov. Vernon Thomson will headline the list of speakers for the Twin City Republican rally Monday night, Oct. 6 at the Elks club. The dinner arrangements are being made by the Menasha Republican club.

Welfare Group Plans Meeting For Neenah

St. Paul Church
Will be Host at Workshop Oct. 1

Neenah — Lutheran pastors and laymen will meet at St. Paul Lutheran church, Wednesday, Oct. 1, to study the work of the Lutheran Welfare society, the social welfare arm of the National Lutheran Council Churches in Wisconsin.

The workshop is one in a series of 10 being held in key cities across the state. The Rev. Arthur Tingley is host pastor.

A coffee hour will precede the program's opening at 9:45 in the morning. The morning session will be devoted to testimonials on Lutheran Welfare work by residents who have been served by the society. A question and answer period also is scheduled.

Superintendent Speaks
Marvin R. McMahon, superintendent of the Wisconsin School for Boys, Waukesha, will be principal speaker at the noon luncheon. His address will center around reasons why people go to prison and the church's responsibility in such cases.

During the afternoon session, the Rev. M. E. Silseth, Milwaukee, the agency's public relations director, will speak on the church and Lutheran Welfare, and the Rev. B. A. Gjenveik, Milwaukee, executive director, will talk on the society's outlook for the future. Devotions will close the session.

The Lutheran Welfare society, a Red Feather agency, offers services to care for unwed mothers, adoption, foster home placement and services to children in their own homes.

Gets Fine for Tippy Driving David Gerhardt, Neenah Arrested After Hy. 45 Crash

Oshkosh — David P. Gerhardt, 24, 109 Division street, Neenah, was fined $100 and costs by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger after he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge this morning.

Cars driven by Gerhardt and Owen Roberts, 59, route 2 Oshkosh, collided on Highway 45 at 1:12 Sunday morning. Both cars were traveling south.

Gerhardt told county authorities that Roberts pulled out in front of him and that he didn't see the other car until he hit it. The Roberts car had turned south onto highway 45 from County Highway J.

A passenger in the Gerhardt car, Betty L. Alberts, 20, route 1, Neenah, was taken to Mercy hospital by sheriff's police for treatment of a cut on the chin. Gerhardt received a cut on the arm and received first aid at the sheriff's office. Another passenger was unhurt.

Gerhardt's license also was automatically revoked for a year.

Neenah Car Struck By Hit-Run Driver

Oshkosh — The entire left side of a car driven by Marshall S. Schroeder, route 2, Neenah, was damaged when struck by a hit and run driver on Highway 41 at 9:25 Sunday evening.

Schroeder reported that he turned off Main street at Neenah on to the highway and the car that hit him turned out from North street. He said he swerved but the car hit him and then turned the corner at Main street.

Autos driven by Dennis O'Connell, 21, route 1, New London, and Clarice A. Robbert, route 1, Larsen, were damaged in a collision at 1:09 Sunday afternoon on County trunk W in the town of Winchester. The autos collided as O'Connell was passing the other car.

Man Committed to Central Hospital

Oshkosh — Alfred Clark, 29, 146 Lorraine avenue, Neenah, was ordered committed to the Central State hospital, Waupun, this morning for 30 days observation by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

Clark allegedly attempted to take indecent liberties with a 12-year-old girl in the 200 block of E. Wisconsin avenue about 1 o'clock Friday morning. The case is being held open until he is released from the hospital.

Julius Case Held Open for Further Investigation

Oshkosh — The case of Gerald T. Julius, 20, 507 E. Columbian avenue, Neenah, was adjourned this morning until Thursday afternoon by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsinger to permit further investigation.

Julius is charged with a burglary at the Airport tavern, Highway 41, town of Neenah, on Sept. 8. Authorities from Outagamie and Calumet counties are also considering charges against the youth.

Four minors involved in the burglary have been released to their parents' custody.

2 Drivers Forfeit $23; Kimberly Man Fined at Menasha

Menasha — Two drivers forfeited $23 while another pleaded guilty to inattentive driving and was fined $25 and costs this morning.

Forfeiting bonds were Ronald A. Westenberg, 25, 829 First street, $14, speeding, and Gerald R. Batzler, Jr., 23, 1409 W. Commercial street, Appleton, $9, arterial violation.

Gerald Minton, 20, 130 N. Washington street, Kimberly, admitted driving inattentively and causing an accident on the Racine street bridge at 4:16 Saturday afternoon. A car Minton was driving struck a car driven by Richard Beimborn, 18, 546 Oak street, Neenah.

'Blue-Inn' Club Officers Elected

Menasha — "Blue-Inn" club members elected Tom Van Buskirk, president; Julie Biggers, vice-president; Jerry Burke, secretary, and Sue Rhyner, treasurer, Saturday night.

The club is being operated by a newly created Blue-Inn board, which is under the direction of the recreation director.

Because no recreation department personnel can be paid to supervise the Blue-Inn functions, Recreation Director Robert Vanevenhoven asked for the voluntary help of parents or other interested persons in helping to supervise the dances and meetings.

Dances are held from 8 to 11 o'clock on Saturday nights and adults willing to contribute their time are urged to call the recreation department during the week.

Store-Apartment, Two Home Permits Issued in Menasha

Menasha — The city's 52nd home permit of the year and a permit to build a $20,000 store and upstairs apartment were issued Friday by H. O. Haugh, building inspector.

Edward Sonneberg received a permit to put up the store-apartment at 414 Racine street. A building now on the site will be torn down.

Two permits to build homes were given to Wiegand Builders. One will be constructed at 82 Harding street and the other at 730 Pleasant lane. Each will cost an estimated $10,000.

Grange, 4-H Units Show Handiwork at Booster Night

Allenville — Grange members and 4-H club members displayed their produce and handicraft at the Booster Night program of the Allen-ville grange Friday evening. Grange members showed fancy work, vegetables, grains, fruits and flowers; juveniles showed candles and Christmas tags they had made, and the Mears 4-H club showed electrical articles. Reports were read on community service by Mrs. Arthur Reinders, Grange youth activities by Mary Becker, home economics by Mrs. Warren Hitchcock, and legislation by Tom Hendy.

Maternal Deaths Cut By Half

Chicago—The proportion of women dying in childbirth has been reduced by more than half since 1946, two New York physicians said today.

The past few years have been a period of "phenomenal growth and accomplishments unmatched in the history of obstetrics," they said in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

According to the United States National Office of Vital Statistics, the number of deaths per 10,000 live births has decreased from 11.6 in 1946 to 4 in 1956.

Although infection accounted for only 10.2 per cent of all maternal deaths, it showed the greatest reduction as a cause of maternal death.

As an adjunct to antibiotics, blood transfusions have also helped reduce the number of deaths from infection, since infection often follows inadequately treated hemorrhage.

New blood pressure-lowering drugs and diuretics (drugs which facilitate the loss of fluid by the body) help control toxemia, a condition in which there is a general "poisoning" of the system.

Plan Survey of A-Bomb Effect in Children

Tokyo—How healthy are the children of mothers who survived Hiroshima? How do they compare with Japanese children whose mothers were outside the A-bomb area?

To get the answers, an American team will survey 10,000 descendants of Hiroshima. A Japanese team of specialists will survey 12,000 children in Shizuoka City.

The findings will be compared.

Dr. James V. Neel of the University of Michigan heads the American team. It will spend one year examining the children of Hiroshima and then spend another on the same task in Nagasaki, the second atom-bomb city.

$500,000 Funded

The survey is sponsored by the U. S. National Academy of Sciences with a $500,000 fund established by various American organizations.

Dr. Neel was connected with a commission which conducted studies of 80,000 pregnant women between 1948 and 1953 in Hiroshima.

The new survey is a follow-up.

Dr. Neel said his earlier study and other reports on the children of atom-bomb victims showed hardly any difference in the offspring born to parents not exposed to massive radiation.

Other members of the American team are Dr. Arthur Drew of Indiana University, a neurologist; Dr. Jerry Niswander of the National Institute of Dental Research at Washington and Dr. Robert Miller of the University of Michigan, public health specialist.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Word origins: Avoid such expressions as, "Empty out the bookcase," or "We must empty out the garage." The "out" is redundant, and should be omitted.

Often mispronounced: Worst (defeated) and worsted (of yarn). In the first meaning, the word is pronounced wuhrt-ed, and in the second meaning it is pronounced woost-ed, with the "oo" as in "foot."

Often misspelled: Skiing; observe the two "i's."

Synonyms: Imaginary, fanciful, fanciful, visionary, chimerical, unreal, illusive.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: theological; pertaining to the science of God or religion. "It is never wise to become entangled in any theological argument."

VNA Celebrates 50 Years of Service at Anniversary Tea

Neenah — Traveling by foot or by horse and buggy, dressed in the long, flowing skirts of the time, Miss Ida Heinicke brought bedside nursing care and comfort to countless Twin City residents, fulfilling a vital community need, that of the first Visiting Nurse.

The Visiting Nurse association, which has grown to a staff of nurse director, four registered and two practical nurses, is celebrating 50 years of service to the community and among the guests, honored Miss Heinicke at a golden anniversary tea Sunday afternoon at the VNA house, 406 E. Wisconsin avenue.

Services have been expanded by the association to include a child health center, dental clinics, pre-natal classes for expectant mothers and classes for prospective fathers in addition to the home nursing program.

The VNA became formally affiliated with the National organization for Public Health Nursing in 1917. In 1926 the child health center, sponsored by the state board of health, was established and in 1932 the first dental clinic was held.

Mothers' Class

A free service for the community is the mothers' class series, which was begun in 1945 and are held throughout the year in a series of eight talks. The class for prospective fathers, which is conducted by a local physician, was begun the following year.

In 1947, when the association became a member of the American Cancer society, it added rural nursing to its program in cooperation with the county unit. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and a local orchestra will play.

General chairman of the dance is James Vandenberg. James Stilp is heading the decorations committee and will be assisted by Ruth Voissem, Alice Paul, Carl Stiller, Audrey Bergman, Marge Wicinski, John Monsted, Robert Pfister, Merlin Versteegen, Carol Ardell, Donna Brown, Clare Hietpas, George Olson and Lorraine Conradt.

Linus Vanderloop Reigns as King of Hollandtown Schut

BY ED VAN BERKEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Hollandtown — It took 909 shots and about two hours of steady shooting before a new king was crowned at the 109th annual Hollandtown Schut Sunday morning. The winner was Linus Vanderloop of Hollandtown.

The day dawned dark but as has been usual for many years, skies cleared before the shooting started and 80 marksmen had a perfect day in which to try to dislodge the heavy, solid bird. Last year's king, Dick Benzschawel, had first shot. Then the parish priest, the Rev. Raymond Conrad, fired at the bird sitting atop a 50-foot pole.

Each of the 80 men then fired in order and kept at it for 11 rounds before the new king finally dislodged the last part of the mock parrot fashioned of wood, metal, rubber belting, nuts and bolts. Last year it took 683 shots to bring down the bird. Once it was brought down in only 183 shots and then again it has taken as many as 1,122 shots.

Vanderloop received the silver parrot and velvet cape symbolic of king and reigned over a day of dining, dancing and fun.

Also sharing in honors were the men who claimed the head, wings and tail of the bird. The head was the first to go as Robert Eiting claimed it early in the meet. Joseph Van Hoof knocked off the right wing and Ray Van Zeeland the left wing as the morning wore on. After considerable shooting, the tail was knocked off by Arnold Lamers and the men settled down to concentrate their fire on the largest and heaviest constructed part of the bird.

The event, sponsored by the St. Francis society of St. Francis church, attracts marksmen from Kaukauna and areas surrounding Hollandtown. Very few misses were noted Sunday morning. Children had a holiday scrambling for empty shells.

The oldest contestant this year was George Vande Wetering, 68, who never missed the bird and posed a serious threat to take over as king late in the match. Several teenage boys also tried their hand at the shooting.

Men attended 8 o'clock mass at the church and marched to the Schut grounds. Girls in Dutch costumes and a band led the march.

Dinner was served at Van Abel's at noon, an evening meal was served and dancing concluded activities Sunday night.

The new king gains the right to keep the silver parrot, presented to the society by Queen Juliana of Holland in 1936 for one year.

Taiwanese May Ask for Independence

BY RELMAN MORIN
New York — In the thundering and dangerous dispute over the future of Formosa, one voice is seldom heard—that of the Taiwanese people.

The natives of the island are a vivid, eager people, energetic and intelligent. Generally, they look Chinese. Yet many of them have distinctive features, possibly from intermarriage with Filipinos, Indonesians and other races.

Over the centuries, they have been ruled by the Portuguese, the Dutch, a Ming dynasty rebel, the Japanese, and now the Chinese nationalists.

Talk of Independence Today, some of the Taiwanese are talking independence.

How many is hard to say. During a recent assignment on Formosa, I didn't find a large, well-defined political movement. There is, however, much talk of a Taiwanese government, independent of both the Chinese nationalists and the Chinese communists.

This might be the solution, at some future date, for one of the most dangerous problems in the world—the powder-keg fact that the Chinese Reds have committed themselves to "liberating" Formosa and the U. S. commitments to defend it.

Formosa is 120 miles from the China mainland. It is the seat of the exiled government of Chiang Kai-shek. More than two million nationalists fled there when the communists swept over China. They agree with the communists on one point: Both maintain that Formosa is a province of China.

Nobody, so far as I know, has ever conducted a plebiscite to determine how the Taiwanese feel. They might very well reply, "a pox on both your houses."

The 109th Annual Hollandtown Schut was ended Sunday when Linus Vanderloop toppled the bird with the 909th shot. Above, from the left, are the men who topped important parts of the bird, Joseph Van Hoof, a wing; Robert Eiting, the head; Ray Van Zeeland, another wing; and Arnold Lamers, the tail. CONCRETE STREETS
...An Extra Measure of Protection!

Pedestrians and motorists both have an extra measure of protection on concrete streets. Concrete's gritty texture is highly skid-resistant, wet or dry, so drivers can stop quicker and more safely in emergencies, without swerving or skidding.

Concrete streets offer an extra measure of protection at night. Their light-colored surface reflects more light than other pavements. You can see farther and better on concrete whether you're walking or driving. If you can't see, you can't be safe!

Concrete on your street will give you, your family, friends and neighbors that extra measure of protection only concrete provides. Concrete pavements are safer—night or day, rain or shine.

Braves Clinch 2nd Straight Pennant With 6-5 Victory

Aaron's Bat Gives Spahn 21st Win

By The Associated Press
It's official now. The Milwaukee Braves will meet the New York Yankees in the World Series for the second straight year. Pittsburgh put up a game fight but the lights went out Sunday while they sat in the rain at Philadelphia and Milwaukee beat Cincinnati.

The Braves had their troubles before nailing down the clincher, 6-5. Warren Spahn rolled along with a 1-hitter through six innings. Then the Redlegs knocked him out in a 5-run inning.

Cards' 21-Point 4th Quarter Tips Packers, 31-24

Rookie QB Reynolds Completes 8 of 13 Passes for 2 Scores

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
Minneapolis — The Packers didn't look sharp enough to beat the Chicago Bears in the process of losing a crowd-pleasing 31-24 decision to the other Chicago team, the Cardinals, in Metropolitan stadium here Sunday afternoon.

This was the Bays' final warmup before the National Football league opener against the Bears in Green Bay next Sunday and there were thoughts that the Bays might explode something as a token of hope.

But the Packers, after holding leads of 7-0, 7-3, 17-10 and 24-17, gave up 21 points in the fourth quarter and sent the

The celebration started in Cincinnati's Crosley field yesterday afternoon immediately after the world champion Braves clinched their pennant with a 6-5 victory over the Redlegs.

Lou Perini, Second From Left, owner of the Milwaukee Braves, joins in a clubhouse celebration in Cincinnati Sunday after his team clinched the 1958 National league pennant, by beating the Redlegs, 6-5. Neenah '11' Stretches Win Chain to 19 by Jarring Kimberly, 28-13

Pete Millar Gains 156 Yards in M-E Inaugural
Neenah — Neenah cleared the first major obstacle in the defense of its Mid-Eastern conference football crown by beating Kimberly, 28-13, here Saturday afternoon.

The Rockets scored seven points in every quarter in notching their nineteenth straight triumph. Counting a tie back in the 1955 campaign, the Red and White is unbeaten in its last 21 starts.

Chicago Cardinals Halfback Ollie Matson (33) breaks through several Green Bay tacklers for extra yardage Sunday in the first quarter of an exhibition pro football game in Minneapolis. Attempting the tackle are John Symank (27) on ground and Alton Romine (23). The Cardinals won the game, 31-24.

game, Dick "Night Train" Lane intercepted a "Babe" Parilli pass aimed at Billy Howton in the right flat, and sped 53 yards for the game's seventh touchdown and the Cards' fourth.

Big Gamble
That was a big fat gamble because Lane left Howton alone behind him. Had the pass been a bit longer (it might have been tipped near the line), it would have been six points for the Packers.

Ted Awaits AL Action After Bat Hits Fan

Boston — A subdued Ted Williams, on the downhill side of an explosive baseball career, today awaited American league action for hitting a woman fan with a thrown bat.

In the latest of his temperamental outbursts, the 40-year-old Boston slugger, angered by a called third strike, flung his bat which caused a concussion over the woman's left eye.

Yanks Commit 5 Errors, Drop 5th Straight

Runnels Hikes Average to .323 As Red Sox Win

By the Associated Press
Pete Runnels' challenge for the batting crown and the 3-way scrap for third place among Detroit, Cleveland and Boston provide the interest in the final week of the American league season.

Ted Williams, a Boston teammate who now is nine points behind Runnels, tried so hard to catch up yesterday that he accidentally hit a lady fan with a bat.

Disturbed by himself for taking a third called strike in the third inning, the 40-year-old slugger let his bat fly and hit a woman in a box seat 75 feet away. The woman, apparently not seriously injured, was Mrs. Gladys Hefferman, the housekeeper for Joe Cronin, Boston general manager.

Finishes at .314

Williams got a double and finished the day at .314. Runnels had three hits in four trips for a .323 leading average. Detroit's Harvey Kuenn is second at .319.

Ike Delock threw a 7-hit at Washington for a 2-0 victory.

Tom Sturdivant, inactive since Aug. 12 with arm trouble and an injured heel, started for the New York Yankees at Baltimore and lost, 3-2. The Yanks, who were guilty of five errors, have dropped five straight.

Bill Skowron, playing third base for the second straight day, made three errors, a total of five in two days. Mickey Mantle dropped his second fly ball in three games. Milt Pappas backed up Hoyt Wilhelm's no-hitter of Saturday with a nine-hit job against the Yanks for his tenth victory. Sturdivant went six innings, allowing eight hits and five walks.

Minnie Minoso's 3-run homer in the first inning was enough to give Cleveland a 3-1 triumph over Detroit. Dick Donovan's 3-hitter for Chicago turned back Kansas City, 2-1.

The Indians, Tigers and Red Sox are tied for third place with 74-74 records.

Neenah Stops Kimberly for 19th Straight

Don Jensen hit a perfect 4-for-4 to keep the pressure on the visitors all of the time.

The Rockets were forced to yield the ball the first time they had it but not the second. Taking over after a punt on their own 26, the winners went the 74 yards in nine plays. They went all the way on the ground and the only pass they tried was incomplete. Fahrenkrug, Jon Laffin and Millar alternated in carrying and Millar climaxed the drive with a 5-yard dash off tackle.

Kimberly took the next kickoff on its 38 and it, too, didn't surrender the ball until it had scored. One of the key plays was a fourth down pass from Don Hearden to Jack Lamers which took the ball from the Neenah 41 to the 24. The scoring play was a 5-yard pitch from Joe Bolwerk to Lamers. Bob Frassetto's kick went to the right of the goal post.

Rockets Fumble

After picking up two first downs Neenah fumbled on the Kimberly 25 but the Rockets reciprocated as Millar picked off a Bolwerk pass on the next play. Neenah got to the one but were shoved back to the three and Kimberly took over.

The Papermakers didn't um's Tar Heels. The score gain and Neenah got the ball was 21-14. Duke, another hope on the visitors' 35 after the full in this traditionally strong punt. A Bill Kuehl to Jensen Frassetto scored on a statue of liberty play, aided by a fine block by Mitch Miller. Jensen's kick made the score 14-6 at halftime.

A jump pass from Hearden to Lamers a play which worked well most of the afternoon, went for 70 yards and Kimberly's second score with 4:25 left in the third period. Frassetto's kick made the score 14-13.

Neenah went 58 yards in 15 plays to score after the next kickoff with a 7-yard fourth down pass from Kuehl to Bill Braun good for the score. Reserve fullback Steve Stulp went around his right end for 19 yards on the last play of the game to complete the scoring.

The Marquette Football Team and head Coach Johnny Druze whoop it up in the dressing room Saturday night after breaking their 20-game losing streak — the longest among the nation's major schools. A grinning Druze, hanging on to his crushed hat, is hoisted off the ground after the Warriors beat South Dakota State, 18-7. In a sweatshirt at left is quarterback Pete Hall who scored all three MU touchdowns. No. 60 is Capt. Bill O'Connell. The toothless grin belongs to Jim Szarwark (No. 73).

Rusch's 6-Hitter Trips Clintonville

Fans 15 as New London Wins First BABA Crown, 4-2

Clintonville—The New London Merchants became the grand champions of the Badger Amateur Baseball association for the first time in the history of the club here Sunday afternoon by downing Clintonville, 4-2.

A. N. Brunner, Leopolis, BABA commissioner, presented the championship trophy and the traveling BABA championship banner — which the team will keep until after the BABA playoffs next year — to Manager Charles Seif.

Strikes Out 15

Pitcher Sheldon "Shelly" Rusch struck out 15 Clintonville batters as he held the defending champions to only six hits.

New London scored its first two runs in the third inning when Ed Algiers and Mel Myers singled after Jim Ehke struck out. Myers started to steal second base and Clintonville's catcher, K. Buchberger, threw over second base, giving Algiers time to score from third base on the double steal.

Myers went to third on the overthrow and scored on a double by "Shelly" Rusch along the first base line.

Clintonville's P. Beckman hit a home run over the right center field fence in the fifth inning to close the gap 2-1.

Ehke singled in Russ Rusch, who walked, and Harry Wilde, who singled, in the seventh inning. Cal Waite scored Clintonville's second run on a home run in the seventh.

Ben Hoppe pitched the first seven innings for the hosts, fanning seven and giving up five hits and four runs. Korth twisted the last two innings, striking out three and giving up two hits.

quences became far more serious when the bat sailed to the seats 75 feet away.

Williams rushed to the box seat railing where Mrs. Hefferman told him: "Don't worry about me, Ted I'm all right. I know you didn't mean it."

The hitmaster, who won male athlete of the year honors in 1957 for producing an almost unbelievable .388 batting average at 39 broke down for a moment.

"Ted was crying. He looked terrible," Summers said. "I had to tell him to get out on the field to play ball he was so upset."

Crowd Boos

The crowd of 9,785 boomed when Williams ran out to his left field position, but reaction was mixed after that and when he doubled home a run in the sixth inning he was loudly cheered.

"I was mad at myself because I really wanted a base hit," Williams said about the incident. "I started to flip the bat along the ground but the sticky stuff I use on my hands kept it in my grip just long enough so the bat left my hands on the fly."

Wake Forest Romps, 34-0, Over Maryland

North Carolina State, Trips Tar Heels; Pitt Jolts UCLA

By the Associated Press

Maryland figured it had an easy assignment against Wake Forest Saturday. The Deacons had lost 12 straight and were headed nowhere.

Tommy Mont, who had taken some unpleasant lumps since taking over at Maryland two years back, thought he had a real ball club this time. Result: Wake Forest 34, Maryland 0.

That about eliminated Maryland from consideration as a possible Atlantic Coast conference champion. North Carolina figured it might be ready to take over since North Carolina State, defending champion, was on the down-grade (someone said).

Instead, for the third straight year—and this one hurt—State licked Jim Tat-tum's Tar Heels. The score was 21-14. Duke, another hope on the visitors' 35 after the full in this traditionally strong league, thought it might be there. And Georgia Tech had hopes of winning the Southeastern conference crown.

So South Carolina blanked Duke, 8-0, and Kentucky shut out Georgia Tech, 13-0.

Penn State had high hopes of winning the mythical Eastern championship and had a setup against Nebraska. But Nebraska picked up the marbles, 14-7.

That leaves Pitt, which belted UCLA, 27-6, as one of the top candidates for Eastern honors.

Fake Punt Helps MU End Losing Streak At 20 Straight Games

Pete Hall Paces Victory That Gives Druze 'Thrill of a Lifetime'

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Milwaukee — (U) — A fake punt, one of football's oldest tricks, helped Marquette end its long losing streak at 20 games Saturday night and produce Coach Johnny Druze's "thrill of a lifetime."

The Warriors, directed with surprising precision by football-state Pete Hall, defeated South Dakota State, 18-7, for their first victory since Nov. 12, 1955 when they polished off Holy Cross, 18-6.

"This was the one we all wanted," said Druze Sunday in the wake of a champagne party for him and his coaches. "At last, we're rid of the stigma of all those losses."

"The kids never let down," he added, "but this is bound to give us a boost in morale and confidence. Now we're just another team with one victory under our belts, no different from a lot of teams."

For a time Saturday night it looked as though the victory would never come. Fumbles cost Marquette two golden scoring opportunities in the first quarter. A stiffened defense enabled the Warriors to stop one Jackrabbit drive on their five in the second.

Then came Hall's beautifully executed fake punt midway in the third quarter following a scoreless first half. The 20-year-old quarterback from Farrell, Pa., who quit football two years ago to give basketball a whirl and then returned for another try, called the play on a fourth down, 11 to go situation with the ball on South Dakota's 39.

Runs 37 Yards

Hall dropped back to punt, but instead of kicking, he threaded his way 37 yards to the two where he was driven out of bounds. On the next play, Hall bounced over for the touchdown that broke the game open.

Later, Hall added two more touchdowns on a 1-yard plunge in the third quarter and a tricky, five-yard run which capped a 72-yard drive in the fourth quarter. The Jackrabbits turned a Marquette fumble into a score early in the fourth quarter with the Warriors ahead, 12-0. Al Breeske plunging over from 31 with a circus catch. About 11 minutes later Wordell Hall outgained the entire South Dakota team, getting 124 yards on 19 carries and 72 yards on four pass completions.

Druze said later that the fake punt is part of the Warriors' arsenal of plays, which was largely unused because of their clear superiority over South Dakota.

Natural Athlete

"This Hall is a natural athlete," Druze said. "He gives us the passer we haven't had for years. He can run. He uses his head. He instills confidence in the team because they know he knows what he's doing out there."

"We should be all right," he added. "Jim Webster and Tim Zhulkie, our two fastest halfbacks, should be ready to play soon and they'll strengthen our running game." Both were out with injuries.

Marquette has an open date on its schedule Saturday.

Oshkosh Edges Eau Claire, 7-6

By The Associated Press

Oshkosh edged Eau Claire, 7-6 Saturday in the only football action between members of the Wisconsin State College conference.

The Titans' winning margin came on Wayne Belke's conversion after Tom Malchow had plunged over from the one. Eau Claire counted on Dave Ruder's dash from the three.

Batting

Willie Mays, Giant, boosted National League batting lead to .342 with single and double in three trips. He also walked twice and scored two runs in 7-4 victory over St. Louis.

Pitching

Dick Donovan, White Sox, held Kansas City in three hits to win fifteenth of season, 2-1.

Final Play

On the game's final play Druze returned a punt to the Fondy 48 and just about broke away. Tailback Wordell gained 36 yards in 10 carries and completed five of 15 passes to lead the Terrors. John Manier caught three of the passes and Gendron speared two, both for 38 yards.

The Terrors rolled up total yardage of 127 to Fondy's 105 and had four first downs to the Cards' five. The visitors were assessed 55 yards in penalties to Appleton's 15.

'Kid' Bassey TKOs Pep in Ninth Round

Boston — (U) — Hogan "Kid" Bassey was in the market for big money fights with his featherweight championship as bait today after crushing the hopes of Willie Pep for one more title shot.

"We're open to all offers," said Manager George Biddles. "No one is barred. Hogan is in big demand."

The 26-year-old champion from Nigeria let his manager do the talking as he began a week's rest after battering Pep for a ninth-round technical knockout Saturday night in the Boston garden.

The 126-pound Bassey picked up a check for $11,611.50 of the ninth round. The scheduled non-title 10-rounder drew twice for a TKO at 42 seconds a crowd of 10,409.

Bears Post Perfect Exhibition Record

By The Associated Press

The final National Football league exhibition standings say it will be a Chicago sub-way series between the Bears and Cardinals for the world championship in December.

But the tune has been known to change before the dance is over and as they begin the NFL season next weekend the only solid fact is that the Bears are back — are once more that hall-point late in the first half.

75th Anniversary Party Features Honors for Officers of Company

Kaukauna — Two plaques, two citations and a gavel were presented at the city-sponsored dinner marking the 75th anniversary of Thilmany Pulp and Paper company and honoring Charles R. Seaborne, executive vice president of the firm, Saturday night.

The citations in the form of scrolls were presented to two vice presidents and each bore and spirit of cooperation between the official seal of the city, Thilmany and Thilco. The plaque and gavel were presented to Elmer H. Jennings, company president, credited the team work of the city, between the city and Thilmany. The plaque carried the inscription "Presented to Thilmany Pulp and Paper company by the city of Kaukauna in recognition of 75 years of progress in our community, a period which has meant the best in American tradition to all of us."

Seaborne Key — Jennings thanked the city for the plaque and spoke of the spirit of cooperation which has long existed between Thilmany and the city. He praised other smaller industries in the city and said the plaque would be placed in the lobby of the main office where it would be an inspiration to young executives of the company.

Bayorgeon presented the key to Seaborne, praising him as an engineer, inventor, leader, industry and education and of kind man and friend. He told the importance they are to of Seaborne's contribution to each other to make better lives for everyone.

How he was a leader who believed in progress and a man "Friend, papermaker, and who gave much when he knew public servant, trained in the it was for the betterment of school of hard knocks and one or many hard work. Loved and learned."

Seaborne has been a wise the art of paper making, counselor, the mayor said, by perseverance, ability and who gained wisdom through understanding of both men wide experience with in-and machinery. Birthday Party For Thilmany Attracts 500

Holy Cross Hall Site of Dinner Sponsored by City

Kaukauna — Approximately 500 persons turned out at Holy Cross school Saturday night for the city sponsored dinner in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company and to honor Charles R. Seaborne, executive vice president of the firm.

Visitors were met at the door by prominent Kaukauna citizens who guided them to various school rooms for a visiting period prior to the dinner. A large 5 by 2-foot picture of Seaborne was on the wall behind the main table.

Floral wreaths on the wall marked the seventy-fifth anniversary of Thilmany. Tables were decorated with baby mums and gladioli in fall colors. The floral bouquets surrounded lit candles which bore a 75-year marker. Pillars in the dining hall were decorated with ivy and railings leading to the hall were decorated with ivy and fall leaves.

A string trio from Lawrence college entertained with dinner music. Waitresses wore paper caps shaped to resemble crowns, the center peak carried the words, "Thilmany-75th Anniversary" while two other peaks had pictures of lighted birthday cakes.

The country style chicken dinner was topped by the guests receiving diamond shaped individual cakes with a candy rose and numerals 75 in the center. A surprise to most of the people attending came when the room lights dimmed and a huge birthday cake was wheeled to the head table.

Each napkin carried the Thilmany name, noted the anniversary and carried the dates 1883-1958. Large colored picture post cards of an aerial view of Thilmany and parts of the city were presented to each person. A souvenir booklet of the evening's program, carrying pictures of Thilmany officials, was placed at each plate.

Honorary Mayor Has Short Term

Kaukauna — Elmer H. Jennings, president of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, was made honorary mayor of Kaukauna Saturday.

Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon issued a gavel to Jennings in honor of the occasion but he did not keep the gavel very long.

His first official act was to read and present a citation to Arthur M. Schmalz, vice president of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, on behalf of the city.

Jennings issued a proclamation as his second act as mayor, setting aside Saturday night to honor Kaukauna men and women, officials, schools and other organizations for their part in the evening's festivities.

He then turned the gavel back to Bayorgeon after reciting a verse about the "Cinderella Mayor."

Royal Neighbors Set Public Card Party

Kaukauna — The Royal Neighbors of America will sponsor a public card party at 8 o'clock Thursday night at Union hall.

Various games will be played, prizes awarded and lunch served Mrs. Ralph Kueh and Mrs. Arthur Oettinger are co-chairmen.

A business meeting will get underway at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Holy Cross Dining Hall at Kaukauna was jammed with people Sunday night for a dinner commemorating the 75th anniversary of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company and to honor C. R. Seaborne, the firm's executive vice president. There were 100 persons at the speaker's table which was extended by wing arrangements on either end. Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon served as master of ceremonies.

4-Hour Program Demanded Planning By Big Committee

Kaukauna — It took the help of over 100 people to put on the testimonial dinner marking the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company's seventy-fifth anniversary and honoring Charles R. Seaborne, according to Joseph McCarty, party coordinator.

The affair Saturday night opened at Holy Cross dining hall with a country-style dinner followed by a program lasting about four hours.

City officials made up the honorary committee and the general steering committee early realized the problem of trying to accommodate 500 people for dinner and keep a program moving when everyone acquainted with the honored guest would want to speak.

Awards Presented — Speeches made at each of four presentations and the acceptance talks failed to slow the program pace. Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, as toastmaster, kept matters from becoming overly flowery.

The affair was a combination birthday party which usually is festive and a testimonial dinner which usually is more sedate. McCarty, James Bonney and Carl J. Hansen, coordinators, attempted to suit the program to both types of party.

Seating, programs, parking, ticket sales, food preparation and hall decorating were only a few of the many items they arranged. Members of the greeting committee met early in the week for a dress rehearsal to make sure everyone understood his duties.

Program Changes — There were a few deviations from the program such as the arrival of a large birthday cake, words of tribute to people who were not on the program and the introduction of special guests. Letters of congratulations from many not present were presented to company officials.

Mrs. Bert Delbridge, relative of one of the early mill founders, and Mrs. Emil Giordana, wife of a long-time employee, both received praise from Elmer H. Jennings, Thilmany president, when he introduced members of the "Thilco Family." Visiting mayors were introduced by Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, city officials were introduced by George Simon, president of the common council, and guests and friends of the Seaborne family were introduced by Ralph Knapp.

Visiting dignitaries from industries and business throughout the valley were introduced by James Bamberg, secretary of the Kaukauna Chamber of Commerce.

Seaborne Praised at Testimonial Dinner

Industry, Labor, School Board, Youth Organizations Pay Homage

Kaukauna — Charles R. Seaborne, executive vice president of the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, listened to the plaudits and praises of friends and fellow workmen Saturday night as the city paid its respects to him.

Marshall Bayorgeon, speaking on behalf of the board of education, said Thilmany and Seaborne have always given Kaukauna schools material and moral support. He mentioned the electric organ, band uniforms and scholarships to 53 high school seniors as only a part of that support.

Dr. George Boyd, president of the Kaukauna Community hospital board, praised Seaborne and Thilco for what they have meant to the hospital. The hospital stands as a symbol of what the industry means to a community, said Dr. Boyd.

Richard Landreman spoke on behalf of the Fox Valley Golf club and told of the work and financial support given the club by Seaborne and Thilmany.

Scout Representatives Paul West paid tribute to Seaborne on behalf of the Boy Scouts since, he said, it

Flashing Light Warns Motorists Of Fire Trucks

Kaukauna — Fire Chief William Haupt issued a warning to motorists to be aware of the flashing amber light in front of the fire station in the municipal building.

The station faces Highway 55 or Main avenue in Kaukauna and in case of emergency, fire trucks or the city ambulance are forced to move out onto the heavily traveled roadway.

Haupt advised motorists the light would be turned on only in case of emergency. When the light is flashing motorists should be ready to stop and keep clear of the exits from which emergency vehicles will be coming.

Share Honors In Pin Loop

Little Chute — Roger Koehn and Jerry Hietpas shared the high individual honors in the Fox Valley league at the Recreation alleys as the former hit a 233 game and the latter had a 583 series.

Koehn finished with a 574 set and Hietpas had a 205 singleton while posting the high series.

EZ Glide Doors took team high with a one game mark of 1,039 and a series total of 2,861. Vanderloop Shoes and Ole's Bar are deadlocked for first place with 7-2 records while the Recreation team is next in line only one game off the pace.

Other high scores included Joe Reynebeau, 557; John Jansen, 207-554; Ken DeBruin, 217-553; Carl Van Vree, 547; Joe Vanden Burgt, 544; Jerry Lamers, 541; Ken Bobber, 536; John Vanden Burgt, 201-534; Floyd Hammen, 533; Jack Lamers, 218-528; Buzz Garvey, 212; Les Ulmen, 210; Tony Jansen, 203; Jerry Mignon, 200 and Lam Schommer, 531.

Split cleanups included Mel Buetow, 3-10; Ken Bobber, 3-10; Larry DeGroot, 2-7; Cunny Hinkens, 3-10; Wally Wilenberg, 6-7-10; Harold Jansen, 5-7; Ed Van Rytte, 3-7-10; Vin Jansen, 3-10 and Roger Koehn, 3-10.

230-570 Lead Women's Loop

Kaukauna — Pat Hooyman rapped a 230 game and a 570 series to wk off with individual honors in the Thursday Night Women's league at S and B alleys.

Team honors went to Schouten oil with an 875 game and a 2,389 series. Four teams, Dons bar, Gertz tavern, Schouten oil and Wiggle foods are all tied for the league lead with records of five wins and one defeat.

Other high scores included Pat Hooyman, 196; Elizabeth Obermeyer, 194, 200, 552; Martha DeBruin, 186, 522; Lorraine Farrell, 182, 496; Harriet Mitchell, 189, 497; Delores Haas, 184, 180, 490; Evelyn Pendleton, 478; Beatrice Van Eperen, 200; Carol Busse, 193, 477; Myra Brill, 196; Ena Zuelzke, 196; LaVerne Ribarchek, 185 and Wilma Kemp, 175.

WCOF to See Slides Of Holy Land Oct. 1

Little Chute — Slides of the Holy Land will be shown at the Oct. 1 meeting of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters.

Mrs. Anna Metz will show slides she took while on tour. The meeting will be in the St. John school social room.

Card winners at the last meeting included Mrs. Ella DeGroot, Mrs. Rose Hoff, Mrs. John Huiting, Mrs. Ray Schroff and Mrs. Charles Nuelemans.

was through his efforts Gardner Dam grew into the type camp it is today. West told of engineering skills, money and volunteer labor all furnished by Seaborne to help get the camp started.

Mrs. Ed Ryan, speaking for the Girl Scouts, told of the financial and material assistance given by Seaborne and E. H. Jennings in helping to build Camp Winnecomac for the Girl Scouts.

Other Speakers

Erich C. Wussow, vice president of the Kaukauna Machine and Foundry division of Giddings and Lewis, speaking on behalf of industry told of the human interest qualities of Seaborne and called him an outstanding individual in industry. He praised Thilco and said Thilmany is a leader in its field and has always had sincere interest in its employees, the city and community.

W. S. "Duke" Meyer, international union representative for the paper makers, said labor would long remember Seaborne for his guidance and help. Through men like the honored guest, labor has a good name in the valley, said Meyer.

Meyer stated a strike vote had never been mentioned in the 22 years in which labor has been negotiating with Thilco and cited this as a fine example of labor-management relations.

Peggy Van Rooy Hits 192 Count

Little Chute — Peggy Van Rooy hit a 192 game for the high honors in the Ladies league at the Recreation alleys. There was no honor series count.

Woman Suffers Cuts to Face in Sunday Accident

Kaukauna — Mrs. Edward C. Sonleitner, 1701 S. Lawe street, Appleton, suffered a laceration of the forehead and a cut over the left eye when the car in which she was a passenger hit a parked car and caromed into a service station about 12:10 Sunday morning, according to Kaukauna police.

The car, driven by her husband, E. C. Sonleitner, 35, was traveling south on Crooks avenue when it struck the back end of a car owned by Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, 1405 Crooks avenue, Kaukauna, parked at the curb. Sonleitner's vehicle bounced off the back of the Roberts car and traveled 218 feet, eight inches, across the street into a service station owned by Joseph Conrad, Kaukauna.

Sonleitner suffered only minor injuries and was released from Kaukauna Community hospital Sunday morning. His wife was kept at the hospital where she is reported in good condition. The car was demolished and about $1,000 damage resulted to the station as several concrete blocks were knocked loose.

Fox Valley Target of Political Campaigns

Both Parties See Area as Key To Possible Victory in November

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The populous, stable Fox River valley is the target of more earnest planning among the politicians than in any other political campaign on record.

Valley residents as a consequence are likely to see the principal candidates for state offices and United States senator more frequently than in any other year, and more often than those of any other region except Milwaukee and its environs.

Strategists of both parties now regard the valley as the key to election victory. Republicans know that unless the valley counties return their usual substantial Republican majorities, their rule in state affairs may be broken.

Democrats also are aware if they can cut into the Republicans' traditional strength in those sizeable counties along and near the historic Fox river and Lake Winnebago, they may win control over the state government.

There are waverings but for the most part the big industrial counties along the Fox tend to be regularly and strongly Republican.

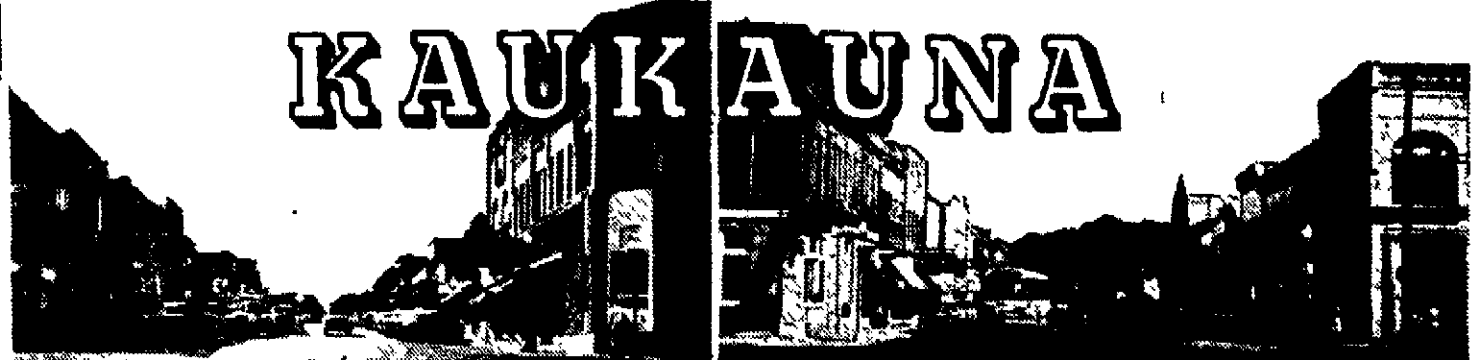

With Democratic inroads in rural sectors of the western and northern zones of the state and as traditional Democratic leanings of such population centers as Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha and Madison, the strategic value of the valley has grown. Thus both party headquarters are scheduling more candidate bookings in Brown, Outagamie, Winnebago, Fond du Lac and other counties in that region than ever before. Party politicians there are being given an importance and deference in state political councils they never enjoyed before.

In most of the heavily industrialized sections of the state, the Democratic party machine has leaned heavily upon organized labor for vote backing, and incidentally for financial support.

But the party has prospered most obviously in those sections where the CIO unions have been strongest. The CIO during the last 20 years of increasing unionization has made little progress in the valley. The proportion of union membership in manufacturing plants there is probably as high as in the state as a whole, but the craft unions, represented by the AFL for the most part, have not joined militant political fronts to the extent of the CIO locals in the heavy industry centers of southern Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, in all previous eras of the state's political history, was the most important vote center for all political parties. However, the Milwaukee political alignment in recent years has been so heavily Democratic that Republicans have tended to write it off.

GOP Statutory Unit Backs All Republicans; Picks Officers

Froehlich Endorses Committee Stand on First Assembly Race

Harold V. Froehlich, a defeated Republican assembly candidate reported earlier as supporting Independent Kenneth E. Priebe against Mark Catlin, Jr., the GOP nominee, today refused to take that position.

Instead, Froehlich, who was reelected chairman of the county GOP statutory committee Saturday, said he endorses the committee's support of all Republican nominees. This would include Catlin.

"I have been asked many times," Froehlich told the Post-Crescent today, "for a statement of my position on the two candidates for the First assembly district seat. Frankly, I do not feel that I could actively take a part in the race by reason of the fact that I will be in Madison attending law school during the entire campaign."

"In addition to this, I am chairman of the Republican statutory committee of Outagamie county and since the committee has already commented on the question, I do not feel that I should personally take a position contrary to or in addition to the one that it has taken."

Chris Mullen, who was defeated by Catlin in the Republican primary along with Froehlich and Priebe, said a week ago he was supporting Priebe and so was Froehlich.

Froehlich was in Madison registering in law school and was unavailable for comment until Wednesday, when he said he would comment over the weekend. He did say he had not supported anyone yet and would wait to see what would happen.

Lyman Clark, former county sheriff and statutory committee member, forced Froehlich to take a position during the committee's meeting Saturday.

Froehlich, he said, should support all party nominees or resign and permit the committee to choose a new chairman.

"It was not a personal thing," Clark said today. "I believe that a Republican party committee is duty-bound to support all duly nominated party candidates or the party breaks down."

Milk Strike Could Come After Today

A strike of Fairmont milk salesmen and plant employees could come anytime after today in Appleton, Green Bay, Stevens Point and Escanaba, Mich.

Today marks the end of the 10-day period since teamster locals filed notice of intent to strike if long-deadlocked contract negotiations stalemated.

Company and teamster negotiators, with some 20 contract issues unsettled, continued the deadlock in a Friday meeting at Green Bay called by a federal mediator.

Both sides said here today they are holding themselves available for the mediator. Robert Schlieve, Local 563 business agent, added that stories about rates of pay for driver-salesmen have been somewhat misleading. They fail to point out the men work an average week of between 60 and 75 hours, he said.

Union Shop Election Scheduled Among Johnston Employees

A union shop referendum will be held Tuesday among four employees of Robert A. Johnston company, 1213 N. Plateau street.

Teamsters Local 563 was certified as the employees' bargaining agent on Aug. 29, after an election Aug. 22 by the National Labor Relations board.

The Wisconsin Employment Relations board requires a two-thirds vote of employees in the bargaining unit before a union shop is permitted.

Stand Taken After Discussion of Catlin-Priebe Test

The Outagamie county statutory Republican committee Saturday went on record supporting the Republican candidates in the Nov. 4 general election.

The resolution came after a discussion which developed from an apparent split in GOP ranks over the First assembly district race, in which Kenneth E. Priebe, Appleton alderman defeated in the primary election, has announced he will run as an independent against Mark Catlin, Jr., the Republican nominee.

Lyman B. Clark, Appleton member of the committee, declared it was the function of the organization to support Republican candidates.

Harold Froehlich, committee chairman, said, "It was suggested that inasmuch as the statutory committee is the official statutory organization of the Republican party, the committee as such could do nothing else but endorse all the Republican candidates in general, however the individual members... might feel."

Sixteen committee members attended. They are precinct committeemen elected in the primary election. When all vacancies are filled, the committee has 56 members, one for each precinct in the county.

Other officers elected besides Froehlich were Mrs. Peter Sinner, vice chairman; William S. Pfankuch, secretary, and James Ertl, treasurer. All are from Appleton.

Named to the congressional district committee were Marvin Babbitt, Seymour, Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, Willis Babb, Appleton, and Clark. Andrew Jimos, Appleton, and Stanley Gillespie, Grand Chute, were named to the senate district committee.

A city committee was formed to include the Ninth ward, second precinct, in Calumet county. County committee officers will serve on the city committee.

VNA Mothers Class

Miss Inez Davis, nurse director, will discuss the growth and development of the young child at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon when the Visiting Nurse association class for expectant mothers is held at the VNA house. A state board of health movie will be shown.

Four Hurt In Accident Near Shiocton

Four persons were injured in a 2-car collision on Highway 54 two miles east of Shiocton at 2:45 Sunday morning.

Taking to New London Community hospital were Gene Johnson, 16, route 2, Shiocton, facial cuts and chest injury; Robert Knoke, 16, route 1, Shiocton, broken teeth, facial cuts and bruises; Walter Sawyer, 45, Shiocton, neck injuries; and Beulah Sawyer, 46, Shiocton, bruised arm and leg.

Sawyer told county police he was driving slowly west watching some deer when a car driven by Johnson attempted to pass and struck the rear end of Sawyer's car.

Sawyer's car ended up facing east about 60 feet from point of impact. Johnson's car stopped about 36 feet from the point of impact.

County police estimated damages to Sawyer's 1958 model car at $2,000 and to Johnson's 1952 model at $500.

Two Candidates File Statements

Two more candidates in the GOP primary race Sept. 9 have filed their expense statements. Deadline for doing so was Sept. 15.

Dist. Atty. George Greisch, who won renomination, is the only candidate who has not filed.

Mark Catlin, Jr., successful candidate for First district assemblyman, reported he spent $724.74 and his committee reported receipts of $295 and expenses of $294.42.

Allan Mink, who trailed Greisch in the district attorney race, reported he spent $131 and his committee reported contributions and expenses of $444.48.

Faces Court for Setting Fire to Hotel Room Bed

James J. Stritch, Jr., 32, Chicago, faces trial in municipal court Tuesday for starting a fire while smoking in bed in his Conway hotel room Sunday morning.

The fire, reported about 4:57, destroyed the mattress and damaged the bed and the casing of the hotel room door. Smoke damage was confined to the room, Fire Chief Paul Neumann said.

Stritch, Neumann said, has been charged with careless smoking. The man told Neumann he is waiting for completion of a new home at 104 E. Glendale avenue.

Firemen tossed the mattress out of the third floor window.

Children apparently set fire to the seat cushion of an old truck parked in the rear of National Food store, 2701 N. Oneida street, about 4:47 Sunday afternoon, Neumann said. Damage was minor.

Appleton Pastor Speaks at Parish Hall Dedication

Clintonville — The Rev. Dr. Theodore Ohlrogge, Appleton, president of the Wisconsin district, American Lutheran church, spoke at the dedication of the $200,000 parish hall of Christus Lutheran church Sunday.

The dedication was a part of the 70th anniversary celebrations at the church. The Rev. Arlin Adams, Janesville, will speak at a community service at 7:45 this evening and the Rev. E. C. F. Stubenvoll, the son of the Christus pastor, will speak at an anniversary ceremony Tuesday night.

The hall was designed by Hugo Logemann of Milwaukee and constructed by Robert Eisenreich Construction company, Seymour. It contains a large hall, stage, offices, a kitchen, classrooms and the Delores Knitt Memorial library.

Plan Dog Show At Valley Fair

More than 40 dogs, representing 36 breeds, will be featured at a parade of dogs at the Valley Fair Shopping Tuesday and Wednesday.

The show will be held from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

Members of the Winnepeg dog club training class will give an obedience demonstration at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. Two dachshunds, owned and trained by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kuhn, Hortonville, will present a variety act at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

The humane society will have a photographic display of dogs available for adoption.

Everything's Peachy, Lost Diamond Found

A Red Owl store employee in Moorhead, Minn., broke the law of probability recently when he found a lost 2-carat diamond in a shipment of over a half million peaches.

It had fallen from the ring of the owner of a fruit company in Washington during loading operations.

Red Owl employees examined six boxes in the search for the diamond.

Woman Injures Head In Fall at Tavern

Mrs. Charles Lamb, 522 N. Clark street, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital about 11:45 Saturday night for treatment of a cut she said she received when she struck her head on a mopboard in Dan's bar, 116 S. State street.

She told police she and her husband were tussling playfully when she fell.

Rev. Hauch Taken To Manitowoc Hospital

The Rev. M. A. Hauch, pastor of St. Therese Catholic church, was taken to Manitowoc by Larry's Ambulance service this morning. He will be staying at Holy Family hospital there. Father Hauch has been in ill health for the last several years.

Shares Ease, Trade Heavy

Fractional Losses For Key Issues on New York Market

New York — The stock market eased below its record peak in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Leading stocks declined irregularly with motors very actively traded. Rails and steels also were brisk.

Losses were mostly fractional among key stocks, stretching to about a point in some instances. A minority of gainers moved in about the same range.

Most automotive stocks were steady to higher. Chrysler was off a fraction as labor talks continued. Steels dropped slightly and rails were mixed.

A lower trend prevailed among rubbers, aircrafts, utilities, oils, airlines and tobacco. Chemicals, nonferrous metals, airlines and tobacco trended lower.

The general business and economic news continued favorable but considerable profit taking on the recent strong advance was evident.

A feature was the performance of Zenith which rose more than three points in a resumption of a recent high-flying pattern then plummeted, showing a net loss of about six.

U.S. Gypsum rose more than a point, DuPont around two and Divco-Wayne about a point. Fractional gains were made by General Motors, Studebaker-Packard, Kennecott, Pennsylvania Railroad, Union Carbide and Westinghouse Electric.

Losses of about a point were taken by International Paper, Goodyear, General Electric and Gulf Oil. Chance Vought was active and about a point higher.

U.S. government bonds improved.

School Board To Study Budget

The Appleton Board of Education will discuss rough drafts of the public school system's budget when members meet at 7:15 this evening at Morgan school. The budget is to be presented to the council in October.

The agenda also calls for a presentation by secondary school principals on programs currently underway for gifted children.

5 Killed on State Roads

Traffic Fatality Count for Year Increased to 573

Milwaukee—(U)—The week-end deaths of a woman, a teenage girl and boy and two young men raised Wisconsin's 1958 traffic fatality count to 573, compared with 638 on this date last year.

Robert Zipperer, 21, of town of Morrison in Brown county, died Sunday of injuries suffered in a crash Saturday. He was hurled from his tumbling auto, which skidded 347 feet and flipped onto its roof on Highway 96 in Brown county.

Mrs. Olga Drost, 83, Burlington, was injured fatally Saturday night in the collision of an auto driven by her son, Ernest, 57, and another auto. The collision occurred on Highway 41 in northwestern Milwaukee county.

George E. Schlig, 27, Stevens Point hospital Saturday of injuries suffered Sept. 10 when he was struck by a car while he was working on a highway construction project near his home town.

Miss Bonnie Lach, 15, Wausau, fell from a tractor-drawn haywagon and was crushed. A Waukegan youth, William McCann, 15, was killed Sunday night in a 2-car collision at a rural intersection near Roxbury in Dane county.

LEGAL NOTICES

of December, 1958. That notice thereof be given by publication of this Order for three consecutive weeks, once in each week, in Appleton Post-Crescent, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date hereof; and by mailing a copy of this Order to every interested person whose post office address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, at least twenty days before the hearing or proceeding. Dated Sept. 19, 1958.

STANLEY A. STADL, County Judge

Sarto Baillet, Attorney
Appleton, Wis. 54911
(NOTE: Sec. 324.26 Wis. Stats. requires a notation of persons who appear to be interested but whose addresses are unknown and unascertainable).
